

China Reds Seize 5 American Employees

Accused Of Beating Official

Washington, Oct. 29.—(AP)—Chinese Communists have seized the American consul general at Mukden and four members of his staff, it was disclosed today. The state department at once ordered intervention with the highest Red authorities.

The Communists accused the official, Angus Ward, and his companions of beating unconscious a former Chinese employee. They said the case would go before "the Mukden people's court."

The arrest apparently came a week or so ago. Official word reached here today after taking five days to squeeze out of China. The Chinese communist radio gave its version today.

Denounce Czech Actions
About the same time, the State Department denounced actions against American diplomats on the other side of the communist world—Czechoslovakia. The red regime there had accused two American diplomats and arrested an embassy clerk on spy charges.

One of the diplomats left the country within the 24-hour limit specified by the Czech government. The other was in Germany when the charges were proclaimed against him and didn't return. The clerk was held in jail at Prague.

It was learned that almost certainly the next American step will be ouster of one or two Czech diplomats from this country on the ground their activities are contrary to the interests of the United States.

File Commis Pattern
State Department officials took note that the Mukden incident fitted a pattern of crackdowns by communist authorities on American diplomatic outposts in many places.

The Mukden incident, climax of a year of conflict with the Chinese communists over the office in strategic Manchuria, caused obvious concern among officials here.

They could not tell what the Chinese communists are driving at—whether they want to try to expel the consulate staff in "disgrace," or are seeking a basis for keeping its members there indefinitely.

Acquit Admitted Ex-Klansman Of Masked Flogging

Birmingham, Ala., Oct. 29.—(AP)—A self-identified ex-Klansman today was acquitted of masked flogging. The jury's verdict freeing Coleman A. (Brownie) Lollar was greeted with loud applause by courtroom spectators.

Lollar, former special sheriff's deputy, was accused by the state of participating with other robed and masked men in the manhandling of Mrs. Hugh McDaniel June 10.

The state said the band broke into Mrs. McDaniel's home and forced her to watch a cross-burning.

Mrs. McDaniel testified her attackers accused her of "selling whiskey and renting rooms to couples."

Just before the jury retired for its brief deliberation—less than an hour—Solicitor Emmett Perry (prosecutor) urged a guilty verdict.

"Tell this man with a lash," demanded Perry, "that he is not above the law."

Immediately after the verdict was announced, Lollar was surrounded by friends who hugged him and pounded him on the shoulders.

Makes Survey Of College Dating Mating Choices

Evansville, Ind., Oct. 29.—(AP)—A Purdue university professor reported today on a survey he made of the dating and mating preferences of 674 students—332 males and 342 females.

The professor, Dr. Harold T. Christensen, reported to the Indiana Academy of Social Science that he finds the young folks don't always date the kinds of persons they would prefer for marriage.

The sociology professor said the boys found a number of things they didn't like in the attitude of the girls. The girls likewise were not altogether enthusiastic about some of the boys' traits.

It simmers down to this, he said: All a boy wants is a girl who is affectionate, romantic, physically attractive, one who doesn't smoke and gives promise of being a good homemaker.

All a girl wants is a chap with conventional sex standards, good financial prospects, who is ambitious and industrious; of a religious nature, considerate and sociable.

Fact-Finders Asked To Clarify Steel Plan

Pittsburgh, Oct. 29.—(AP)—Another sliver of hope slanted feebly across the nation's darkened steel-coal strike picture today.

The government—working feverishly to crack the industry-stuffing steel deadlock—dropped squarely in the lap of the CIO United Steelworkers a move by small producers to recall the presidential fact-finding board for clarification of its peace formula.

Otherwise, the situation remained as bleak as ever.

The steel and coal strike twins have outgrown their swaddling clothes. A robust four and six weeks old respectively, they have left the nation's economy battered.

While President Truman says the strikes do not yet add up to a national emergency, more than a million workers are idled and losses in the hundreds of millions of dollars.

In the steel and coal capital of Pittsburgh, requests for jobless aid are flooding state employment offices at the rate of 10,000 a day, most of them as an indirect result of the strikes. That's the pattern elsewhere.

Federal mediators are continuing talks with top steel producers in an effort to drive a peace wedge into the stalemate but say they haven't gotten anywhere yet. The coal strike is just jogging along with negotiations off until Tuesday.

Steelworkers President Philip Murray has 500,000 unionists out of the mills in his fight for free pensions and insurance. United Mine Workers chief John L. Lewis doesn't call strikes but 380,000 of his men are staving home in support of his fight for a new contract with more pay, more pensions.

Recall of the steel fact-finders was suggested by President William H. Colvin, Jr., of Crucible Steel Company in Pittsburgh. He directed the request to U. S. mediation director Cyrus H. Ching, who passed it along to Murray.

Usually the only persons in Britain who criticize royalty are communists or the few anti-royalists.

The committee says "divorce only recognizes in law an existing state of facts—that a marriage has failed."

Present laws, it says, foster perjury and connivance to circumvent the law in 75 per cent of all divorce cases.

40,000 Pounds Of Pork On Hoof Roam West Palm Beach

West Palm Beach, Fla., Oct. 29.—(AP)—Nearly 40,000 pounds of pork on the hoof roamed the exclusive Hillcrest section of West Palm Beach today, frightening housewives and eluding pursuers.

The porkers got loose when a trailer-truck overturned. Driver James B. Purvis of Fitzgerald, Ga., said there were 190 pigs aboard, each weighing around 200 pounds.

Purvis said three pigs were injured when the truck tipped over and had to be killed. The others were very much on their own.

Housewives chased the porkers with brooms and gardeners brandished rakes as motorists stopped to watch.

An increase in the number of roast pork dinners was predicted.

ELECTED VICE PRESIDENT
Fargo, N. D., Oct. 29.—(AP)—Grover C. Erdmier of Preport, Ill., was elected vice president of the American Federation of Lutheran Brotherhoods at the group's national convention today. Erdmier is a member of the United Lutheran Church in America.

Tough Deputy Gets His Men Although Wounded 5 Times

Boisevain, Va., Oct. 29.—(AP)—A tough deputy sheriff was shot four times but mustered strength to kill one suspected bandit and wound another in a bloody gun battle here today.

Shot a fifth time before he got the second man, Ed McGlothlin, the deputy, was in critical condition tonight at a hospital.

The bandit pair are suspected of getting $450 last night in the hold-up of a West Virginia state liquor store at nearby Anawalt, W. Va.

There was a question about the identity of the gunmen.

The wounded man, his thigh fractured by one of McGlothlin's bullets, told newsmen he was George McGuire, 30, of Jenkinsburg, W. Va.

Officers said they were sure he is Monty Jones, who escaped about six weeks ago with his brother Roscoe from the West Virginia penitentiary at Moundsville.

The officers said they think the dead man is Roscoe. The brothers help arrived.

Illinois News Briefs

Rock Island, Ill., Oct. 29.—(AP)—Martin T. Rudgren, 70, city clerk of Rock Island for 42 years, died today in Moline Lutheran hospital following an operation. Rudgren, a Republican, was first elected city clerk in 1907. He held the office continuously until last May when he retired. His wife, Mary, died a year ago. There are no children.

Springfield, Ill., Oct. 29.—(AP)—Murphyboro Bus Company, Inc., has been authorized to adopt a straight 10 cent cash fare for adults the Illinois Commerce Commission announced today.

Previously, the firm's tariffs also provided for the sale of tokens, four for 35 cents. This feature is eliminated under the commission's order.

East St. Louis, Ill., Oct. 29.—(AP)—W. J. McGinnis of Belleville was elected president of the St. Louis Livestock Exchange at the organization's 64th annual meeting today.

He succeeds John W. Sanders of East St. Louis.

Vandalia, Ill., Oct. 29.—(AP)—Three prisoners walked away from the Illinois State Penitentiary near Vandalia early today. Authorities at the farm identified them as Kenneth Hamilton, 18, of Bloomington; Jewel Abrams, 17, of Irving, Ill.; and Joseph Whitehead, 20, of Danville.

Cairo, Ill., Oct. 29.—(AP)—Police reported that a man who gave his name as Ray Crawshaw, 43, of Carbondale, walked away from St. Mary's hospital here yesterday shortly before he was to have been taken to the Anna State Hospital for an examination.

A police magistrate signed an order for the examination after the man was arrested for drunkenness. He was taken to the hospital pending his removal to the institution at Anna.

Metropolis, Ill., Oct. 29.—(AP)—Robert Slayton, 54, was acquitted by a circuit court jury today in the slaying of Jesse Poe, 58.

The state had contended that Slayton killed Poe during an argument over the border between their farms. Both were negroes.

Pinckneyville, Ill., Oct. 29.—(AP)—Acting on complaints of mounting fowl losses, the Perry county board of commissioners voted yesterday a $2 bounty on red and gray foxes killed in the county. The county will start paying the bounty on Dec. 1.

Truck Skids Into Train; Driver Is Killed, 18 Hurt

Bluffton, Ind., Oct. 29.—(AP)—A gravel truck skidded into the side of a westbound passenger train today, killing the truck driver and causing injury to 18 passengers.

The last four coaches of the eight-car Erie railroad train were derailed at the crossing five miles north of here on State Highway 1.

Raymond Stram, 24, of Bluffton, Ind., died in the crumpled cab of the truck. Thirty-nine passengers were taken to hospitals here and at Huntington, 18 miles northeast of here.

Twenty-one of the passengers required no treatment and only five remained in the hospitals tonight. The rest were released after examination and treatment for nervous shock and bruises.

Those still under treatment included Mrs. Rosa Hicks, 64, Naperville, Ill., and Mrs. Louis Corbet, 47, Wheaton, Ill.

Locomotive, Auto Collide; 3 Killed

Fairfield, Ill., Oct. 29.—(AP)—A Southern railway freight locomotive and an automobile collided just outside Fairfield today, killing three occupants of the car.

Police identified the victims as Tom Large, 65, a farmer, of nearby Burnt Prairie; Frank Posey and his wife, Dolly, both about 55, from northeast of here.

The locomotive, a diesel, carried the automobile about 100 yards before it could be halted.

An inquest was set for tonight.

DIES OF HEART ATTACK AS HE BOARDS BUS

Chicago, Oct. 29.—(AP)—A man carrying cards bearing the name of E. R. Nelson, 51, of (457 Pearl street) Galesburg, Ill., died of a heart attack tonight as he was about to board a bus bound for Lemont.

An identification card issued by the Chicago, Burlington and Quincy railroad listed Nelson as a railroad welder.

Police also found a driver's license in the man's wallet.

Truman Signs 15 Billion Military Appropriation

Mail Order Cigarettes Object Of Tax Crackdown By 38 States

By The Associated Press
Tax collectors in 38 states are on the hunt for new game—the fellow who buys out of state cigarettes by mail order to save paying his state tax.

They hope to flush some $20,000,000 in taxes out of his pockets next year.

The tax men got the go-ahead signal Oct. 19 when President Truman signed new cigarette tax legislation.

This law requires persons selling cigarettes in interstate commerce to furnish the tax administrators of each state where they have customers with a complete list of people—except regularly licensed distributors—receiving such goods during the previous month.

A nationwide survey by the Associated Press showed Saturday that most states plan vigorous tax enforcement. Some are going clear down to single carton level to sock buyers with bills for unpaid taxes and penalties.

There are eight states that have no cigarette taxes. The bulk of the mail order business is conducted from some of these states. They are California, Colorado, Maryland, Missouri, North Carolina, Oregon, Virginia and Wyoming.

Two other states—Illinois and Nevada—are prevented by their own state laws or court decisions from collecting from consumers a tax on cigarettes bought out of state.

These states have a sellers rather than users tax, so their residents still can buy mail order cigarettes for their own use without paying a tax.

The remaining 38 states all report they expect to take advantage of the additional tax collection opportunity. A few of them however, including New York, Illinois and Idaho, expect to concentrate on distributors inside their own states who resell untaxed cigarettes they obtain out of state.

The cigarette mail order houses are considering a test of the constitutionality of the law. Some of these firms bitterly attacked the legislation as "an obvious restraint of trade by setting up tariff walls around each state."

But meanwhile, these firms are in a difficult situation. A few smaller shippers are considering going out of business, but the majority expect to hang on, for the present at least. Tobacco taxes are a major source of revenue in the states. The tax ranges from one cent to as high as eight cents a package. Pennsylvania, which has a four cents tax, collected $78,475,740 from this source last year.

The 17 states that made specific estimates for the survey expect to collect an aggregate of $12,130,000 in extra revenue each year because of the new federal law.

Several midwest states already had voluntary agreements for the exchange of information on out-of-state cigarette sales. The new federal statute will merely serve to make this exchange mandatory.

Hoehler Urges Aid Department Of Illinois Merge

Peoria, Ill., Oct. 29.—(AP)—Fred K. Hoehler, director of the Illinois Department of Public Welfare, tonight urged creation of a single welfare agency within the state.

Hoehler addressed a meeting of the Illinois Welfare association. He said the public is confused by a long list of scattered welfare services in at least four departments and several statutory boards and commissions.

"Everywhere there is the need for skilled personnel and a genuine support of a career service in state and local welfare agencies."

Among current problems in the state's welfare work, he said, was the need for codifying child welfare laws, establishing new commitment laws for the care of the insane, adding the increasing number of persons asking state help, adding communities to help themselves, more skilled personnel, and a new source of finances to make welfare services adequate.

The group honored three persons for outstanding welfare work in the state. They were Mary Humphrey, Springfield; Samuel A. Goldsmith, director of the Jewish Federation of Chicago and president of the Illinois Welfare association; and Joseph L. Moss, director of the Cook county Bureau of Public Welfare.

Makeup Of Group To Study Problems Of Youth Told

Springfield, Ill., Oct. 29.—(AP)—Makeup of a 92-member Illinois committee that will take part in a national study of youth problems was announced today by Governor Stevenson.

Committees in this and other states will lay the groundwork for the mid-century White House conference on children and youth, to be held in December, 1950.

The conference next year will be the fifth in a series called every 10 years by the President of the United States. Its emphasis will be on development of sound personality in children.

The Illinois group, selected from leaders in the fields of education, religion, labor and child welfare service, is to study ways of promoting mental, emotional and spiritual health, and qualities that contribute to individual happiness and responsible citizenship.

The governor named Frank H. Woods Jr., of Chicago, as chairman. Appointed vice chairmen were the Rev. J. O. Austin, Mrs. Edwin W. Elendath, Thomas L. Marshall and Stephen A. Mitchell, all of Chicago, and Mrs. D. Dow Harvey, of Ccm.

BODIES OF CRASH VICTIMS WILL BE TAKEN TO FRANCE

Ponta Delgada, Sao Miguel, The Azores, Oct. 29.—(AP)—The bodies of Marcel Cerdan, the French boxer, and 47 other persons killed in the crash of an Air France Constellation in the Azores will be flown to Paris, the company announced today.

A special plane is being sent tomorrow to Santa Maria, which has the major airport in these Portuguese islands, to collect the bodies. It is expected to return to Paris Monday.

Plane Rams Radio Tower, Crashes In Flames; 3 Killed

Charlottesville, Va., Oct. 29.—(AP)—A light airplane rammed into a radio tower here today, crashed in flames and killed its three occupants.

Police and Red Cross workers identified the victims as Circuit Judge Thomas H. S. Card of Welch, W. Va.; his son, J. C. Card, prosecuting attorney for McDowell county, W. Va.; and Miss Elizabeth Ellen Hicks, the younger Card's secretary.

The plane was bringing the trio here for the football game between West Virginia university and the University of Virginia. Witnesses said it was flying at an altitude of between 250 and 300 feet when it smashed into the 391-foot tower of Radio Station WCHV. The tower was bent but did not topple.

The plane and its occupants "were torn all to pieces" by the crash, according to Miss Jean Lindsay, of the WCHV staff.

She said the plane had been buzzing Charlottesville for most of the morning and previously had checked through Lynchburg.

Mother Seriously Injured By Fire

Alton, Ill., Oct. 29.—(AP)—Mrs. Laurence Bryant of Palestine, Ill., was reported in serious condition today after third degree burns suffered a week ago.

She was committed to the State hospital here by the Crawford county court here last Wednesday. County officials said she suffered the burns after pouring kerosene over herself.

She is mother of six children.

Admits Poisoning Granddaughters To Get Insurance

Jackson, Miss., Oct. 29.—(AP)—A 42-year-old man with a yen to elope today admitted poisoning his two granddaughters, one fatally, to collect insurance money.

Police chief Joel Holden said the grandfather, Houston Roberts, signed a statement that he slipped poison capsules into medicine for Mary Louise Hill, 5, and Shirley Ann Hill, 4.

The police head said Mary Louise died last July and that Shirley Ann only recently was released from a hospital where reports showed arsenic of lead in the kidneys.

Holden said the grandfather's statement accused Mrs. Ruby Pace, 43, of furnishing the poison in both instances.

Roberts is under arrest on charge of attempted murder in connection with Shirley Ann's illness.

Mrs. Pace was arrested yesterday on a similar charge, but denied any connection with the case. She was freed under $3,000 bond but was rearrested tonight for questioning.

Bridges' Ouster From CIO Rests On Vote By Members

Cleveland, Oct. 29.—(AP)—Harry Bridges' Longshoremen got little comfort from CIO President Philip Murray today in a last minute effort to stave off threatened ouster from the CIO convention.

Murray, in a two-hour closed-door session, listened to Bridges' delegation and then referred the whole matter to the floor of the convention which opens here Monday.

Bridges wanted a commitment from Murray on the Longshoremen's future autonomy and membership in the Soviet-dominated world federation of trade unions, which the CIO left last spring.

The CIO chief and the vice presidents emerged from the session smiling and Bridges wore a wide grin, too. But at times the talking became noisy enough for reporters waiting outside to hear. In one heated exchange Bridges was called a "liar."

After the meeting Bridges referred all questions about the talk to Murray. He also was tight-lipped when he entered the conference, along with about a dozen mem-

Impounds Air Funds To Limit Groups

Washington, Oct. 29.—(AP)—President Truman overrode Congress today on the hotly debated 58-group air force issue.

He signed a $15,585,863.498 military appropriation—the biggest in peacetime history—but in doing so he ordered the secretary of defense to impound $615,000,000 that the lawmakers had voted to build up the air force to 58 groups.

Mr. Truman's budget provided for a 48-group force and that is about what he'll now get. The air force will acquire about 1,400 new planes instead of 1,300.

Not Cost But Upkeep
In forbidding the proposed expansion of the air arm, the President said in effect that it isn't only the original cost but the upkeep—more men to man the planes, more operating costs, more replacement expense, all in all "greatly increased" future expenses.

Furthermore, he declared, to give the air force more than provided in his budget would be "inconsistent with a realistic and balanced security program which we can support in peacetime."

The $15,585,863.498 appropriation represents more than $100 for each man, woman and child in the United States. It is far more than one-third of the entire federal budget.

Heads of the House and Senate Appropriations committees did not question the validity of the President's action. Senator Byrd (D-Va.), who has led a fight to cut federal costs, praised it. But some Republican lawmakers were critical.

Brewster Not Surprised
Senator Brewster (R-Me.), interviewed at Bangor, Me., said he was not surprised at the President's move but added it raises the question: "What are the limits of his disregard of Congress?"

Maine's other senator, Margaret Chase Smith, also a Republican, said she had been for a 70 group air force, doesn't believe 48 groups are enough, and thinks Mr. Truman "could have compromised" on 58.

The big money bill provides the following sums:

Army: $4,380,044,298 cash.
Navy: $4,285,332,200 cash and $643,546,000 contract authority.

Air force: $4,088,386,000 cash and $1,992,756,000 contract authority.

Other military operations: $105,150,000 cash. These operations include financing the office of the Secretary of Defense, the National Security Council and the National Security Resources Board.

College Refuses Endowment, White Supremacy Rule

Natchez, Miss., Oct. 29.—(AP)—Jefferson Military college—describing its financial situation as "desperate"—turned its back on an endowment of $50,000,000 today and broke all ties with Texas Millionaire George Armstrong, who made the offer.

The college trustees met for 90 minutes and then concurred again on Armstrong's withdrawal of the offer conditioned on the 147-year-old prep school incorporating his ideas of "white supremacy."

A statement by the trustees said there had been "a complete misunderstanding between Armstrong and the board of trustees."

The statement added that . . . "The policies announced by Judge George W. Armstrong are not, never have been, and never will be the policies of Jefferson Military college, so long as any member of the present board of trustees is in any way connected with the institution."

The trustees not only rejected the endowment, but also refused Armstrong's unconditional offer to pay the school's $5,000 bank note and support it during the rest of this school year.

In a written statement of his own, the wealthy oil and steel man denied charges that he was anti-semitic.

"Only to the extent that Jews are socialists and communists am I anti-semitic," his statement said.

EISENHOWER KEEPS HIS HEAD
Gen. Dwight D. Eisenhower was at his most statesmanlike the other day in testifying to Congress on the bitter inter-service squabble.
He declined to get into the melee. Instead, in a calm, precise way he devoted himself to clearing the air so everybody could understand the dispute more easily. He sought to lift both congressional and Pentagon thinking above the level of present animosities and to get things into balance.
Partisans of either the Navy or Air Force may have been disappointed that the general did not take their side. But they should really be grateful that he did not. For in the end this controversy must be settled through reconciling opposing views—not through crushing victory for one or the other.

Eisenhower told the House Armed Services Committee the root of the trouble is the division of the service dollar. As he put it graphically: "Each service wants into that pile with its shovel."
Stripped of its emotional fervor, the Navy's case is disclosed as largely a fear that it will be whittled down not through overt legal acts but through a choking off of funds it believes vital to most effective operations.
On the other hand, to the Air Force it is basically a question of putting the most chips on those defense tasks that the Joint Chiefs of Staff have given highest priority, such as strategic bombing.
Eisenhower helped the cause of unity on this money issue by reminding both the generals and the admirals that they had worked well together during the war. He advised them "not to be too ready to call names or impugn motives" in this dispute, but rather to search for the same sort of cooperation they found in battle.
To Eisenhower much of the current difficulty is an inescapable part of the struggle for a permanently unified command. "Stumbling and fumbling" is perfectly natural at this stage, he said. But the effort to unify must go on; it must not give way to discouragement because the obstacles seem great.
The inquiry into the armed services rift is now put off until January. In the intervening two months the nation will gain some idea whether unification has been advanced or retarded by this painful public airing of differences.

If military and naval officials accept Eisenhower's advice, they may now begin to move closer to real service unity on a sounder footing than heretofore. Doubts and fears are out in the open, motives are known, and actions by each branch can be better understood.
But if the top brass of Navy and Air Force proceed instead to entrench themselves in their widely separated present positions, January will find Congress with a knottier problem than it had when the hearing closed.
Eisenhower spoke with the good of the country in mind. It would be unfortunate for the nation were the generals and admirals not to heed his words and begin to patch up their differences in a new spirit of co-operation.

Recall Jersey Co. Grand Jury For Murder Case

Jerseyville — The grand jury of Jersey county was ordered recalled Friday by Judge E. L. Wilhite of Carlinville who reconvened an adjourned session of the Jersey County Circuit Court here at that time. The grand jurors will report for duty at 10 a. m. Nov. 21.
Application for the reconvening of the grand jury was made by State's Attorney Alvin H. Pettit to Judge Wilhite shortly after the court was reconvened Friday morning.
Pettit stated that among the cases to be considered by the grand jury will be that of Leonard Hawkins, alias Lucky Hawkins, of Hartshorn, Okla., who is being held here without bond on a charge of murder arising out of the death Oct. 5 of Albert Earl Clark of Boise City, Oklahoma.
Hawkins was brought back from Texas following his arrest in that state Oct. 17 about 20 miles from Dalhart. Sheriff C. E. Wedding of Jersey county and Sheriff Arthur Powell of Greene county arrived in Jerseyville with the prisoner about midnight Oct. 21.

Rescuers Begin Identifying Crash Victims
Punta Delgada, Sao Miguel, The Azores, Oct. 29 — Rescuers working today began identifying the burned and broken bodies of 48 victims killed in the crash of an Air France Constellation.
The plane plumed into a mountain side yesterday. It was bound from Paris to New York.
A French technical mission also was at work trying to determine the cause of the crash. Xavier Marcel Cordan, violinist Ginet Neveu and painter Bernard Esprit De Monvel were among those killed. There were no survivors.
The body of 28-year-old Miss Neveu, one of France's greatest women musicians, was one of those so far identified.
Another early report from the crash scene said the body of one of the pilots had been found almost intact, his arm thrown up as if to ward off a blow.
Details were slow in coming from the remote spot of the disaster, high on Sao Miguel Island's highest rocky peak, near the village of Alzarvia. But first reports confirmed that the plane crashed into Pico Redondo at 3 a. m. yesterday 19 p. m. CST Thursday, ten minutes after it sent its last message to Santa Maria airport, 54 miles south of the crash scene.

Governor, Elliott To Hear Complaint

Springfield, Ill., Oct. 29 — Governor Stevenson and Attorney General Ivan Elliott will meet next week to discuss a Fulton county official's complaint that gambling flourishes in adjoining Mason and Tazewell counties.
James W. Mulroy, the governor's executive secretary, said last night the time of the conference had not been set. The gambling complaint came from Arthur D. Young, Fulton state's attorney.

That Was 1924—Remember?

Eight of the charter members of the Girls' Athletic Association of the Illinois School for the Deaf got together just before the silver anniversary dinner held at the Masonic Temple Friday evening. They're shown here looking at snapshots of themselves and their classmates away back in 1924.
Seated, left to right, are Mrs. Dorothy Belle Campbell of Jacksonville, Mrs. Emma Solberger Johnson of Jacksonville, the present physical education instructor at the school; Miss Helen Kent, the club's first faculty adviser who is now an instructor at the Scott School, Mich. school; and Mrs. Mae Adcox Tillman of Highland Park, Ill., the club's first president.
Standing are Mrs. Vivian Everett of Houston, Rockford; Miss Mabel Gates, Decatur; Mrs. Myrill Ashley Caffero, St. Louis, and Mrs. Ollie Geoffrey Houston, Rockford.
More than 150 persons attended Friday night's banquet. Dorothy H. Sellers was the toastmistress. Catherine McKinney extended the greetings. Faculty Adviser Barbara Rogers read the club history. Superintendent Dan T. Cloud and E. S. Johnson spoke briefly. Rev. W. J. Boston offered the invocation.
Foreign Kolinek, I.S.D. alumna who is now a professional dancer in Chicago, presented two dances and S. Robey Burns, former I.S.D. coach, gave an illustrated talk on his recent trip to the International games for the Deaf held in Europe.
The Gallaudet club showed a movie of the activities held at the school during its centennial celebration.
A high spot on the program was the presentation of a wrist watch to Mrs. Emma Johnson, "for her many inspiring and faithful years with the G.A.A."
She was the general chairman on arrangements for the 25th anniversary dinner. Her associates Mrs. Ferol S. Thorn, faculty chairman; Mrs. Dorothy B. Campbell, alumnae chairman; Mrs. Dorothy Sellers, reception; Mrs. Myrill A. Caffero, banquet programs; Miss Barbara Roberts, banquet programs.
Banquet arrangements were in charge of Mrs. Ferol Thorn, with Mrs. Rhoda Smoore, Miss Dorothy Endes, Miss Margery Jacobs and Mrs. Max Thompson assisting.

Mothersingers' Chorus Will Be Organized Here

A Mothersinger Choral group is being organized by the P.T.A. music chairman of the Jacksonville schools. The first meeting will be held Nov. 1 at 2:15 p. m. at the YMCA.
Any P.T.A. members who like to sing and would care to join this group are urged to be present at the meeting. Choir work or any other musical background would be helpful, but is not necessary. All P.T.A. members from Jacksonville and surrounding districts are welcome and eligible to join.

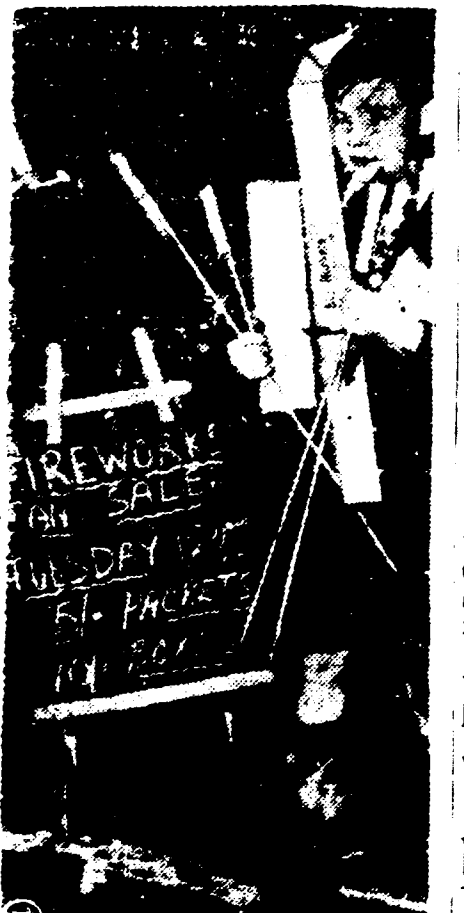

Sinclair Home Bureau Gathers At Cully Home

The Sinclair Home Bureau unit held its October meeting at the home of Mrs. Harold Cully, at which time Mrs. Roy E. Robinson and Mrs. William Thomason were welcomed into the unit as new members.
The unit made a donation to the Elsie M. Meis foundation fund. Mrs. Lester Martin presented the major lesson, "Understanding Youth," and the minor lesson, "Care of Synthetics," was given by Mrs. Harold Cully. Following the lessons, an interesting contest was enjoyed by the group under the direction of the recreation chairman, Mrs. George Hibbs.
The next meeting will be held Nov. 23, at the home of Mrs. Roy H. Robinson.

Dud Racket Devalues Boom Of England's Firecrackers

By Julius Humi
NEA Staff Correspondent
London — (NEA) — Post-war racketeering, and the devaluation of the pound sterling, have hit one of England's most innocent and most profitable industries.
The victims are mainly boys stocking away fireworks and toy rockets for the approaching Guy Fawkes night, a celebration resembling a cross between the American Halloween and the Fourth of July.
Commemorating the arrest of one Guy Fawkes on Nov. 5, 1605, a few minutes before he planned to set a torch to a stock of explosives which would have blown up the British Parliament with the King inside, British children, before the war, on and about that day exploded an estimated 500,000 pounds worth ($2,000,000 dollars at pre-devaluation rates) of fireworks each year.
But this year many of the boys will find that they have spent their pocket money on "duds" which will fail to explode.
Since the war, the government has put increasing restrictions on the sale of fireworks, and this year the prices of some of the "rockets" have gone up by an additional 400 per cent. Dealers blame devaluation for the increase.
A small bomb which last year sold for about two pennies, now costs one shilling 14 cents.
Hardest hit are the small retailers. The omnipresent sign "Fireworks sold out, sorry" is usually the signal for one of the racketeers, representing some of the back-room manufacturers, to approach the shop owner and offer to sell a limited number of fireworks and rockets at slightly less than the official prices.

LITTLE GUY loading up for Guy Fawkes night in England may find more fizzle than sizzle. "We can find no answer to this racket, except to advise people to look at the labels and the names of the makers of fireworks before they buy them," said Leslie Riddle, one of the country's leading sports and toy dealers. "But unfortunately most of the customers are boys happy to lay their hands on anything which might make a noise."

Boyle's Column

Happy Birthday To The National Sweetheart
By Hal Boyle
New York — P — Happy birthday today to America's most glamorous girl!
She's 63 years old, but isn't looking forward to her old age pension. She still carries a torch for every man in the land, and she is true to each one that has stayed true to her. A chubby lass who always wears the same old-fashioned dress, she has welcomed more people to New York than Grover Whelan.
This national sweetheart — the number one U.S. pinup girl — is Miss Liberty, the statue that stands gazing seaward from Bedloe's island, a 15-acre welcome mat outside the golden door.
Every year she has a birthday party and, of course she also will this year and the next. May each one that has stayed true to her, O'Dwyer and the French ambassador will be there to make speeches. She's had quite a time of it — some career — our girl. She has greeted more than 60,000,000 immigrants to our shores, and ought to know how these newcomers felt, entering the land of opportunity. She was an immigrant herself.
Perhaps she had an even harder time setting up here than the average immigrant.
The idea of the Statue of Liberty was conceived in by a French historian in 1876 on the 100th anniversary of American independence. She was modeled by Frederic Auguste Bartholdi, a young Alsatian sculptor.
She was a million-dollar baby. It took the French people four years to raise $700,000 by popular subscription to build her. But it was nine years before the American people got around to taking her as a gift and raised $300,000 for a pedestal to put her on her feet. The campaign was put over the top by Joseph Pulitzer's New York world.
President Cleveland formally welcomed Miss Liberty to citizenship on Oct. 28, 1886.
She immediately took the country by storm and over the years has become a great national shrine. Some 500,000 tourists visit her annually. They used to scratch their initials on her inner walls with knife blade or lipstick until a wire netting was put up to stop them. Now all they can do is lipstick the steps.
During the war years Liberty's lamp, which throws its beams 20 miles across the waters, was darkened. But when the boys came back home her torch glowed as a beacon again for them.
Expensive Miss
It has cost much more money to renovate Miss Liberty periodically than it did to build her and put her in place, and she still costs about $64,000 a year.
She stands 151 feet, has a right arm 12 feet thick. She never went in for a boyish figure — she is 35 feet thick at the waistline, and weighs 450,000 pounds. Thirty people can stand in her head.
An odd fact: in all the years no one has committed suicide by jumping from this inner perch. This might be because no one ever wanted to desecrate Miss Liberty. Or it could be because nobody but a madcat could crawl through the windows in her crown.

Miners Refuse To Sign Liens; Store Closes

Hazard, Ky., Oct. 29 — P — One food supply source for striking United Mine Workers members in the Hazard field has been shut off by the Midland Coal company.
Its store at Tibby closed yesterday after miners refused to sign liens on their vacation pay to insure payment of accounts. Some men have been drawing food on credit for more than a month.
Editor Reynolds, editor UMW head, said he knew of no other store that has asked for a security pledge on vacation pay. The usual procedure is for firms to make deductions from miners' weekly pay when they return to work.
The Midland firm denied it plans to close another store at its Hazard mine.

Education Week To Be Observed At BPWC Meeting

National Education Week will be observed by the Business and Professional Women's club at its regular meeting Thursday, Nov. 3, at 6:15 p. m. in the banquet room of the Dunlap hotel.
A play entitled "How Jacksonville Schools Observe American Education Week," written and directed by Ida Simmons, will be presented by the children of Franklin school. Those taking part are Penny Ball, Charlie Cleland, Bob DeVore, Peggy Burton, Junior Coats, Danny Mow, Beverly Skinner and Rosalie McDermott.
The music will be presented by 30 children from the Franklin school chorus, under the direction of Martha Symons.
The program has been arranged by the education and vocations committee, of which Lena Heim is chairman. Other members of this committee are Violet Auwater, Verna Butcher, Elsie Evans, Mary Fotts, Mabel Ruyle, Della Simmons and Helen Wear.
The supper committee is composed of Bertha Dunnaway and Margaret Niccum. Esther Barker will serve as cashier.

Children's Books Subject Of P.T.A. Talk By Librarian

Miss Frances Bailey, Jacksonville librarian, was speaker at the October meeting of the Jefferson P.T.A., on Thursday at the school. Her topic was the progress of children's literature. She also gave an outline of the summer vacation activities at the library and displayed an interesting collection of children's books.
The meeting opened with the pledge of allegiance, followed by the installation of the new officers who are Mrs. Robert Taylor, vice president, and Mrs. Emmitt Minor, secretary. A business session was then held.
Music was furnished by Miss Armstrong's fourth and fifth grade pupils. Miss Cobb introduced the teachers; the president, Mrs. Ben Beerup, presented the officers, the committee chairman and the home room mothers. These are Mrs. Richmond Fairfield, Mrs. Paul Thady, Mrs. Wayne Beihl, Mrs. William Gibson, Mrs. Anna M. Smith, Mrs. Howard Walls, Mrs. C. A. Willets, Mrs. Albert Beemer, Mrs. Thomas Stout, Mrs. William Sperry, Mrs. F. G. Cavaness and Mrs. Orville Kelly.
After the meeting a social hour was held.

Cologne Swab Cleans Powder

BY ALICIA HART
NEA Staff Writer

Keeping foundation and face powder out of the hairline is next to impossible, if make-up is to do a good cover-up job.

But there's no reason why the graying dust of powder or the gummy streaks of a foundation should stay in the hairline to wreck good grooming.

There are many ways of freeing a hairline from such messy smears. One is to wrap one end of an orange stick with a bit of cotton, dip it into a freshening lotion or cologne, and work the swab all the way around the hairline until it looks spotlessly clean.

This will do the trick and with no damage to a coiffure that has been done up before make-up has been applied.

The way to clean a hairline when make-up goes on before hair goes up is to use a small brush. A purse-sized grooming brush is good for this purpose, if its bristles are slightly dampened and are whisked briskly through the hairline right after the last dab of powder goes on.

Because a dusty hairline is a threat

Color Rinses Beautify Hair

BY ALICIA HART
NEA Staff Writer

Women no longer need to deplete their budget or spend endless hours lightening or brightening their hair.

Thanks to a simple powder rinse sealed into the last rinsing water of a shampoo, hair can literally be bathed in color. New tints to choose from include dark amber, tawny brown, copper, leaf, ginger, golden, ash and grays that range from silver to "pink fire." When the hair has been thoroughly washed and the color-rinse has been applied, a vigorous brushing while still damp will help bring out even more brilliant highlights.

A personalized kit containing five of the main color tones for blondes, brunettes, brownettes and redheads offer a woman an opportunity to play around with hair-tints until she finds her best shade.

In the kit she'll find the shade that will darken or intensify her natural hair color, or lighten or brighten tresses that have gone drab. By using the rinses available to her in this kit, a woman can banish gray streaks from her hair, or tone down the brassy or "rusty" look of dyed or bleached hair.

This girl has applied a new color rinse to her hair. A vigorous brushing, while hair is still damp, will bring up brilliant highlights.

maker who wants to decorate her home most comfortably.

For example, she should know the role played by color in making a bedroom restful and sleep inducing.

Of course, the most important factor in restful sleep, is good sleep equipment which will give the proper kind of support and allow the sleeper to toss and turn at will, resting every part of the body.

So, bedding should be the first consideration. Then, much can be done with color to create a restful atmosphere. The best colors for use in a bedroom are pink, orchid, pale yellow, blue, green, cream, violet, ivory and lavender.

Colors which should not be used in large amounts in a bedroom are red, maroon, orange, purple, brown, taupe, plum, wine, black and white. Touches of these colors, however, may be effective as accent notes.

The reason for the do's and don'ts about these colors can be understood by comparing their characteristics.

Take, for example, red, a don't for bedrooms, and its distant cousin pink. Red is characteristically warm, rich and stimulating. In a bedroom, it would be disturbing rather than soothing. Pink, on the other hand, is gay, youthful and dainty, ideal in creating a happy, peaceful feeling.

Other Colors
Other good bedroom colors have similar characteristics. Blue denotes spaciousness and tranquility, most desirable in a bedroom.

Green is characterized as cool, restful and quiet, and is very easy on the eyes, wonderful in a very sunny room.

Violet and lavender are also cool colors. Pale yellow is light and cheerful.

In television a channel is the invisible path over which a station sends its signal.

Small amounts of leftover vegetables may be mixed together and added to a cream sauce; flavor the sauce with a little Worcestershire and grated onion. Turn into a casserole, top with buttered crumbs, and serve with slices of crisp bacon for a luncheon dish.

Sour cream, flavored with a little lemon, makes a "different" sauce for boiled potato cubes. Season with salt and pepper, and heat together gently; sprinkle with parsley or paprika before serving.

The marble fireplace and baroque mirror are the focal points of this 19th Century living room. This is another example of gracious traditional furnishings adapted to today's living. Popular deep green walls accent the beautiful green marble in the fireplace.

Good Posture 'Carries' Duds To Advantage

BY ALICIA HART
NEA Staff Writer

New fall duds won't look any better than the posture that carries them around.

Let a woman button up a snappy new suit over a slumping shoulder, a retreating chest and an advanced tummy, and there's nothing to blame but her posture for the compliments that she fails to get.

A last season's dud on the other hand, will catch a second or third appraising glance if it's worn by a lady with a fine carriage.

The easiest way to support a fine carriage is for a woman to keep her shoulders in a yoke-line balance with her body. If she'll imagine that she's carrying a sizable basket on her head, she won't have any trouble keeping shoulders braced, abdominal muscles in, chest up, neck touching the back of her new suit collar. More primitive women who do carry head-borne baskets are the best examples of good posture that the world has to offer.

A woman who walks in good posture not only keeps her body lined up, but bows to another straight line. It's on the ground, straight ahead of her, and she straddles this imaginary line with feet spaced a few inches apart. For nice going, aloof, toes should march straight ahead.

Worst faults of walking, especially by women who wear high heels, are loping, heaving hips, swiveling a body from side to side or bouncing from the balls of feet as though there were springs inside of shoe soles.

Springy steps have their place but that's on stairs which have to be climbed. Springy steps used for climbing look and feel more spirited than the more toilsome method of pulling one's self up by the knees.

Selenium is a chemical element sensitive to light.

Company dessert can be quickly made by using two store-bought sponge cake layers filled with chocolate pudding made from a packaged mix. Frost the dessert with whipped cream and garnish with pecans.

Soft ginger cookies may be put together with peppermint frosting. To make the frosting add from two to three tablespoons milk to a cup and a half of sifted confectioners' sugar along with a pinch of salt and about 5 drops of peppermint flavoring; cream well.

Spotless Togs Spell 'Chic'

BY ALICIA HART
NEA Staff Writer

There are good grooming routines which will put a million-dollar stamp on a girl's appearance no matter how budget-priced or how many seasons old her clothes are.

By the same token, the most expensive, well-tailored outfit will miss its mark if basic grooming is neglected.

Starting at the top, a girl will be ahead on looks if her hairline is concise. A flyaway mop of hair, straggling ends and a bushy brow all give a half-combed look. Keep hair slick and under control by having it shaped and thinned regularly; brush it for a shiny, smooth crown and clip off at bangs and neckline when stray wisps grow out.

An immaculate blouse, ironed to perfection, though it comes directly from the budget basement, will flatter any girl. Watch out for smudges, make-up stains, and under-arm moisture. No girl, except a dummy in a show window, can look fresh and appealing in a white cotton blouse that gets more than one wearing before it's washed.

COLLEGIATE CAPERS

Two interesting skirts and one good jacket equals two suits in the co-ed wardrobe. Add a jumper, as many blouses as the budget will allow—and toss in a clever jerkin or vest—and you don't need a slide rule to discover the mathematical potential of a basic and highly interesting, casual about-the-campus wardrobe.

Chapin Woman's Club Convenes At Coultas Home

Chapin—A postponed meeting of Chapin Woman's Club was held at the home of Mrs. Ellen Coultas. During the business meeting it was decided to contribute to all club projects, as was done last year. The president gave a report of the district board meeting and of the county meeting honoring living charter members of Morgan County clubs. Mrs. Coultas read an interesting review of the book "Secrets of the Stars." Delicious refreshments were served to eleven members. Mardell Alderson, Margaret Willard, Dorothy Kehart, Jannette Joy, Robert Smith and Billy Joy attended the Methodist Youth conference at Pittsfield Monday night, representing the Chapin Methodist church.

Lt. Anderson At Home After Two Years In Panama

White Hall—Lt. Jack L. Anderson and Mrs. Anderson arrived this week after two years spent in Panama, to visit his parents, Mr. and Mrs. H. B. Anderson here, and her parents in Warrenton, Mo. Lt. Anderson is on leave from the army and will receive a new assignment during his 30 day leave. His mother, Mrs. Pansey Anderson and he and Mrs. Anderson spent Wednesday at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Judson Hoover near Pearl.

Russell Jarman Jr., of San Antonio, Texas, a former resident of White Hall, who has been in St. Louis for two weeks on a business trip, visited at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Albert Nash this week, and looked after business interests for his mother. Albert Nash has been in Chicago visiting his son Grover.

Mr. and Mrs. Jack Rahmes of Chicago were recent guests of Mr. and Mrs. Frances Conrod.

Rev. Elmer C. Johnston and Dr. and Mrs. F. N. McLaren left Thursday morning to attend the Disciples of Christ International convention in Cincinnati, Ohio.

Golden Wedding To Be Marked At Pittsfield

Pittsfield Ill.—Mr. and Mrs. Bert Burbridge will celebrate their golden wedding anniversary Sunday when dinner will be served at the community center. Those who will attend are Mr. and Mrs. Fay Kuhlman of Rockford, Ill., Mr. and Mrs. Russell Storey and son Robert of Oak Park; Miss Hester Burbridge of Evanston, and Mrs. A. H. Figgis of Quincy. Harold Gard of the Community Gas and Appliance Co. has left for a ten day all-expense vacation trip to Cuba, as the reward for winning a sales contest. He joined a group in St. Louis, going from there to Miami, Fla., by train. The remainder of the journey to Cuba will be made by air.

Land in the far north thaws only on the surface in the summer, and remains frozen to considerable depth below the thawed portion.

To Hold Regional Conference Here On Rehabilitation

The Division of Vocational Rehabilitation is sponsoring a series of regional meetings this fall which will take the place of its usual annual conference. The program has been planned by C. Hobart Rickert, Chief of Guidance, Training and Placement, and will be attended by all counselors and professional staff members from the state office. The central region will meet in Jacksonville on November 8th and 9th with Carl O. Gordon, regional supervisor, in charge.

Mrs. Everhart Is Injured By Fall

Mrs. Laura B. Everhart of 721 West State street, suffered serious injuries Friday afternoon about 4 o'clock when she fell to the sidewalk near the public square and West State street, while on a shopping trip. She was removed in an ambulance to Passavant hospital where examination showed a fractured collar bone and fractured right hip. Dr. A. G. Wolfe is the attending physician.

Why: Western Policy Is Restudied

Washington—Top Americans on duty in Europe are attending two rather unusual meetings, that are signs of the times.

Our ambassador to European countries, gathering in Paris, and chiefs of various missions behind the Iron Curtain, getting together in London, meet after three months of fast moving history that has had an effect on American influence in the world. What effect, no one knows.

Here, the State Department shrugs off the meetings as "just routine." But it is the first time that our top diplomatic representatives have rendezvoused off-shore to talk. Normally, they fly home individually to Washington for "consultations." Informed Washington guesses say the meetings were called to evaluate the quick shifts of power which have taken place the past few months, and perhaps to lay new American plans.

Both the headlines and actions by the State Department tell why there has to be a restudy right now of American determination to hold Communism.

1. The Soviet overlord in Germany have now set up a German-Communist government in East Germany. That German split hurts Western plans for a unified German state most because it denies to the Western part of the nation the food the Eastern Germans used to sell. This is not new, but it puts a seal on the split.

East Germany's new Communist Chancellor, Otto Grotewohl, says his 20,000,000 Germans will be geared to Soviet economics and politics. Stories from Germany indicate suspicion that the Russians may soon pull at least part of their troops out of Eastern Germany. That would put the Western occupying powers—Great Britain, France and the U. S.

—on the spot with the Western Germans, who are just as eager to see the last of foreign troops.

There appears little chance of that now. State Department spokesmen point out there has been no challenge of the offer made in 1946 by the then Secretary of State, James F. Byrnes, who said the U. S. was prepared to stay in Germany 40 years if need be.

But the Western powers will likely be up against an added need to educate the Western Germans to the freedoms granted them under the Western powers (even though troops are around) compared to the loss of freedoms in the East (even though most of the Russians withdrew).

2. European exiles here feel that European governments will certainly question U. S. moves more closely now that it is known the Russians may have an atom bomb. Europeans will want quicker and more certain action on promises of help. In particular they will want the promised American arms aid.

3. France again is in a turmoil, attempting to get a stable government. Again the French workingman is clamoring for more wages. His union leaders expect rising prices because the French franc was devalued. And the French clamor for wages was fertile ground for the Communist a few years ago.

4. The State Department has information that Yugoslavia fears Soviet-inspired guerrilla warfare on the Greek pattern. Yugoslavia's dictator, Marshal Tito, however, is testing whether a Communist nation can run its own show or must take orders from Moscow. Tito's success is important to the foreign policy of the Western powers, which would like to see the nations of Middle Europe chipped off the Soviet bloc.

What would the U. S. do to help Tito in such a fracas? The State Department has no comment, but the American ambassador to Yugoslavia, Cavendish W. Cannon, will be at the London meeting.

5. Nothing done in Europe to contain Communism can hope to ignore the events in China, where 450,000,000 people have seen a swift three-month sweep of Communist armies. European heads of mission can do little about the Far East. But the U. S. ambassador to Moscow, Alan G. Kirk, will be at the London meeting just in case strategy meetings become a global study.

Former Colonel Goes To College

Los Angeles—(AP)—A former Army colonel, three times a grandfather, is having the time of his life as a student at the University of Southern California.

Desmond K. Laub, 62, majors in French and studies the modern French novel, American history, geology and English literature as well. "I'm making straight A's," he grins, "which is better than my daughters did when they went to the University of Michigan."

As a youth Laub bypassed college in favor of a trip to Denmark. Back in this country he took a job with the Detroit News and over a 30-year period was everything from cub reporter to foreign correspondent. He won a purple heart as an infantry lieutenant in World War I, and left the last war a colonel in the Air Corps intelligence corps.

Retirement wasn't to his taste, so Laub went to college. "I'm having a wonderful time," he says. "Being with all these young people is keeping me young."

INN'S SIGN IMKS CHRISTIANS.
West Malvern, England—(AP)—The new sign outside the Lamb Inn has local clergymen and brewers squabbling. Signs depicting animals, birds and historic figures traditionally swing in front of inns. The one at the Lamb Inn shows a lamb with a halo bearing the banner of the cross.

"It is an affront to Christians," complained the Rev. L. D. Heppenstall, demanding the sign's removal. "It is the Christian emblem of the risen Lord."

Its length of 1660 miles ranks the Nelson river as the 28th largest in the world.

Carrollton PEO, Chapter DK, Has Formal Inspection

Carrollton—Mrs. R. I. Lee of Brock, who served as left supporter of the first vice president of the state P.E.O. organization, inspected Chapter DK of the P.E.O. Wednesday evening at the home of Mrs. N. D. Vedder. Prior to the inspection Mrs. Lee was guest of honor at a dinner given by the chapter in the dining room of the Presbyterian church.

Representatives of the local Rebekah Lodge attended guest night held by the Rebekah Lodge of Jacksonville. Guest officers from the local organization were Mrs. Dorothy Kessie and Myron Farnbach.

Others from here who attended were Miss Lena Keyes, Mrs. Frances Dawdy, Mrs. W. Horn, Mrs. Howard Kessie and Myron Farnbach.

Admitting such a development might come some day, engineers classify "smellvision" as "still scientifically unproven."

MURRAYVILLE
Murrayville—The W.S.C.S. will serve a potluck dinner at its meeting Thursday, Nov. 3, in the church social rooms.

The American Legion Auxiliary will meet in the Legion rooms Wednesday night, Nov. 2.

Mr. and Mrs. M. J. Benscoter were hosts this week to Mr. and Mrs. Leslie Wright, Mrs. A. J. Fredrickson and Mrs. Grace Patterson of Harrisonville, Mo., and Mrs. Hazel Troost of Kansas City, Mo. All of the guests also visited relatives in Greenfield.

Wednesday evening Mrs. Benscoter entertained a group of relatives in their honor, including G. M. Cunningham, Mrs. Ada Barton, Mrs. Jane Murgatroyd of Jacksonville, Mr. and Mrs. J. P. Wright, C. J. Wright and Mrs. Lyndall Symons. Mrs. Louise Ommen assisted her.

Mr. and Mrs. A. K. Stansfield and son, Bobby, had supper Friday evening with Mr. and Mrs. Frank Arnold of Greenfield.

Mr. and Mrs. Otto Armitage and Mr. and Mrs. Charles McClain of Jacksonville spent Wednesday with Mr. and Mrs. W. E. McKean and family.

Patty and Larry Beades of Jerseyville spent last week with their grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. T. G. Beades.

Mr. and Mrs. Elmer Springman and sons of Jerseyville were recent visitors of Mr. Springman's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Frank Canatsey.

PASSES BAD CHECKS IN JERSEY COUNTY

Jerseyville—A bad check artist cashed several small checks during the week end at several local business places. The checks thus far reported were for small amounts and were drawn on a local bank in which the party never had an account.

A number of worthless checks are reported to have been passed during the past month in several rural areas of the locality. Three county taverns were among the places "bilked."

Mary L. Richards Crowned Queen At Carrollton

Carrollton—This week end the Carrollton high school held its second annual homecoming, with the highlight of the activities reaching its peak when Miss Mary Louise Richards was crowned homecoming queen.

Miss Richards, the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Louis Richards, is a senior, and graduated from Kane high school last year. Dressed in a red formal, the blonde queen carried a white chrysanthemum colonial bouquet, and was escorted by Dick Mehrhoff, son of States Attorney and Mrs. L. S. Mehrhoff and president of the student council at the high school.

Miss Richards was crowned by the retiring queen, Miss Virginia Dowdall, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. L. M. Dowdall, a freshman at the Illinois State Normal university. She was escorted by Charles Brannan.

The first maid was Glenda Woolsey, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Ed Woolsey of Kane. Miss Woolsey, a senior and a brunette, wore a blue dress and carried a pink bouquet. Her escort was Jim Richards, the second maid, Miss Jewel Reynolds, a blonde junior, wore aqua, and carried a colonial bouquet similar to the queen's, as did all the maids. Miss Reynolds' escort was Richard Standefer. The third maid, a senior and a brunette, Miss Darlene Gillingham, is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John Gillingham, and was escorted by Joe Johnson. The fourth and last maid, Miss Barbara Owens, a brunette sophomore, is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Verl Owens. Her escort was Jim Johnson.

Miss Betty Ann Siebermann was mistress of ceremonies. She is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Oren Siebermann. Miss Virginia Lou Hutchens, soloist, sang "Sweetheart of Sigma Chi" to the queen. The little flower girl, Miss Susie Allen, is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Donald Allen. Pages were David Pinkerton and Dickey Bill Probst.

The homecoming dance was held in the high school gymnasium, which had been decorated with green and white streamers and miniature footballs and microphones. The music was furnished by Jimmy Conley's orchestra from Jacksonville.

Preceding parade held Friday afternoon, contained 17 floats and numerous decorated cars and bicycles. First prize went to Inman's Department store, which furnished a donkey hitched to a cart. Second prize was taken by the Sophomores, whose float depicted the downfall of Roodhouse.

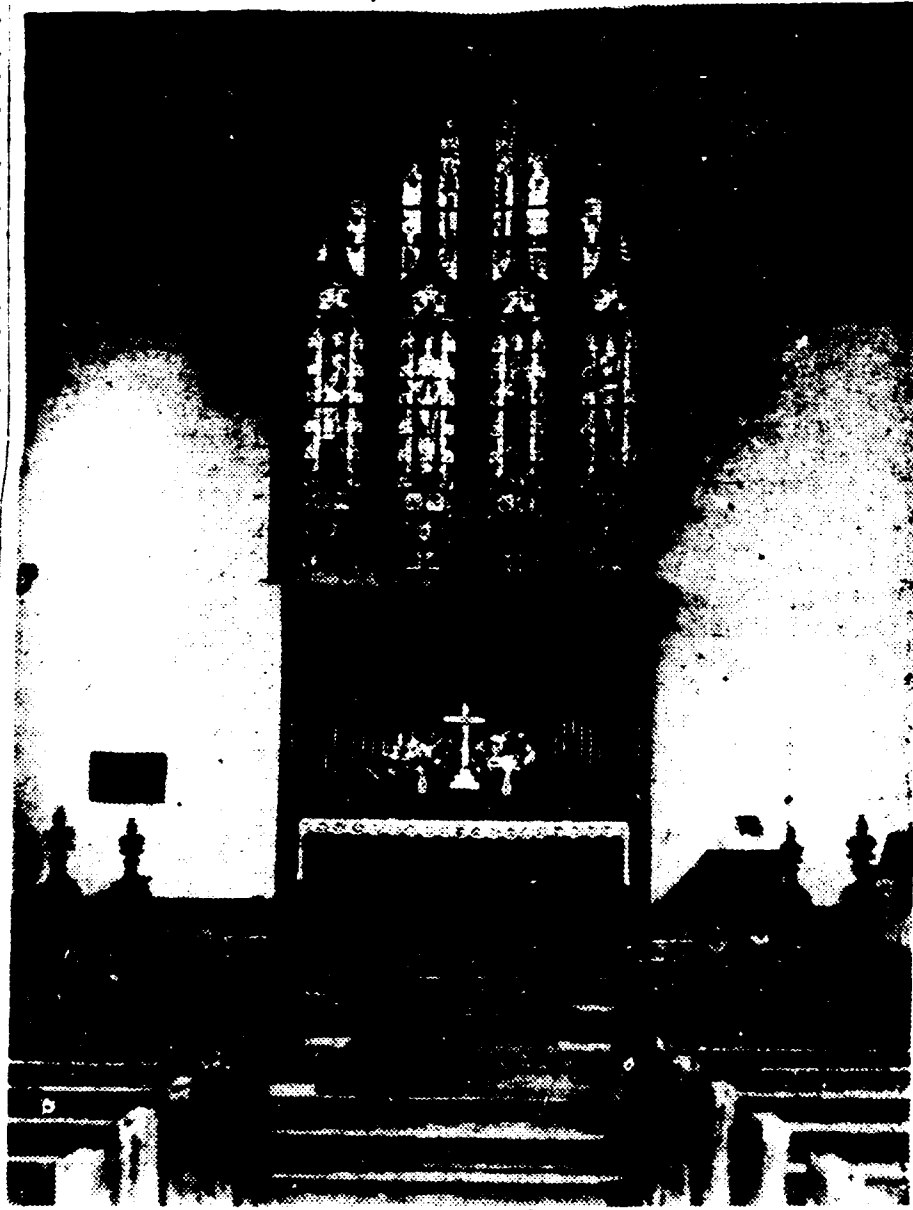

Ashland Juniors Rehearsing "No Place Like Home"

Ashland—"No Place Like Home," a three-act comedy, will be presented Friday night, Nov. 4, at 8 o'clock by the junior class of the Ashland High school. Follis Paul is the director.

Betty Yancy, Wayne Wood, Betty Roth, Virginia Farmer, John Holmes, Ann Savage, Ivan Monroe, Bob Harding, Mary Roth, Dwight Dalton, Collena King, Dick Bergschneider, and Carol Edwards make up the cast.

"No Place Like Home" is a royalty play produced with the permission of the Heuer Publishing company, Cedar Rapids, Iowa.

MEMORIAL AT TRINITY

The altar window and reredos shown above were consecrated at Trinity Episcopal church by the Rt. Rev. Charles Asa Clough, Bishop of Springfield, on Sunday, October 23. The four main panels of the window depict the patron saints of the Anglican Communion: St. George of England, St. Andrew of Scotland, St. Patrick of Ireland, and St. David of Wales. In the four center tracery windows above are the archangels Michael, Gabriel, Raphael and Uriel. The window was given by Mrs. Charles H. Joy in memory of her husband. The Trinity Women's Fellowship gave the reredos in memory of the faithful women departed of Trinity church.

THE DOCTOR SAYS Some People Have Trouble As Weather Turns

By EDWIN P. JORDAN, M.D.
Written For NEA Service

Many people notice that there are changes in the way they feel when the weather turns stormy and damp, hot and muggy, or clear and cool. A few have pains in their muscles or joints at times and claim that they can tell when a storm is coming. More susceptibility to colds or other infections in bad weather is common complaint.

Extensive studies have been made on the relation between certain diseases and changes in the weather. Most human infections, particularly those of the breathing system and rheumatic types, seem to be much worse in the periods of heavy storms during winter and fall and they are least common in mid-summer warmth.

In addition to the immediate effect of stormy weather, some differences have been reported between one climate and another so far as several diseases are concerned. This may be connected with the difference in storminess or variations in temperature and barometric pressure between one region and another. Some of those who have studied the question have even gone so far as to say that almost all diseases are greatly affected by these differences.

FOR BETTER BREATHING
People with chronic infections of their breathing apparatus or those who are unusually susceptible to acute infections do seem to do better in the southwestern part of the United States, where major storm changes occur far less frequently than in most other parts of the country. The benefit which then can obtain is probably greater in the winter and spring when storm conditions are at their worst in the northern and eastern sections of the country.

Not all doctors are agreed on the direct relation of climate or weather to health and infection, but there does seem to be a relation, at least in some people.

Note: Dr. Jordan is unable to answer individual questions from readers. However, each day he will answer one of the most frequently asked questions in his column.

THE DOCTOR ANSWERS

By EDWIN P. JORDAN, M.D.
QUESTION: Would you please discuss cancer of the throat and tuberculosis of the throat?

ANSWER: These are big subjects and both conditions are so comparatively rare that it hardly seems justified to discuss them in a full column.

700 Students Attend District Conference

The annual conference of the Illinois Association of Student Councils was held Saturday at Jacksonville High school, with more than 700 Student Council representatives from 26 counties in attendance.

"Keeping Our Students in School" was the theme of the conference, which opened with registration at 8:30 a.m. Invocation was offered by Lewis N. Raymond of State Street Presbyterian church and a welcome to the visiting delegates was extended by John Agger, J.H.S. principal. The J.H.S. band under the direction of James Welch, played several numbers.

The speaker of the day, Dean Wendell S. Dyingier, based his address on the theme of the conference.

Famous Choir To Sing Here Nov. 2 At State School

"Wings Over Jordan," the world's most renowned negro choir, will give a concert in the auditorium of the Illinois School for the Deaf, Wednesday evening, November 2, at 8 o'clock. There will be no admission charge, but a free will offering will be taken.

"Wings Over Jordan" became popular through broadcasting from Cleveland, beginning in 1937. The choir is now touring the country and so far has appeared in 45 states, averaging 50,000 miles per year. The choir spent ten months overseas, visiting servicemen in Italy, Belgium and Germany, and received two special citations from commanding generals in the European theater, for outstanding service. Since returning, the group has appeared in famous concert halls in 45 states, including New York's Town Hall, Madison Square Garden, and Carnegie Hall; Hollywood Bowl in Los Angeles, Convention Hall in Philadelphia and many others.

"Wings Over Jordan" is sponsored by the U. S. Treasury Dept. assisting in the sale of Savings Bonds over the Mutual Broadcasting System, coast to coast network, every Sunday morning.

The coming of the choir to Jacksonville is sponsored by the Ministerial Association of Jacksonville, and 1200 people are expected to hear the concert.

The opening session was presided over by Miss JoAnn Winstead, J.H.S. senior and retiring president of the district.

Business of the conference included reports by the various committees and an election of officers. A sponsors' meeting was held, with John S. May presiding.

During the afternoon, several discussion groups were held, which included "Finances in Student Council Work," Lloyd Wineburner, Leomont Community Unit 702; "Securing and Retaining Student Interest in Student Council Activities," Lucinda Lutz, Macomb; "How Can Student Councils Help Keep Students Interested in Going Through Secondary Schools," Lynn Weckmeister, Galesburg; and "Student-Faculty Cooperation," Francis Clauser, Green Valley.

The conference concluded with a dance at the Y.M.C.A. Youth Center.

Legion Auxiliary Of Moss-Walton Post In Session

Reports from the American Legion Auxiliary caravan conference for the 20th district which was held in Mt. Sterling were given by Mrs. Lillian Holt, president of Moss-Walton post auxiliary at its regular meeting.

Others who reported details of the caravan conference were Louisa M. Bundy, Cornelia Carter, Margaret Mitchell and Margaret Postley.

Mrs. Irene Lewis of Virginia, 20th district director, presided at the Mt. Sterling session.

The social committee for the evening included Mrs. Elizabeth Carter and Mrs. Cornelia Carter. The next meeting will be held Nov. 8 at the Moss-Walton post Legion home.

UNION YOUTH SERVICE White Hall—The union youth service will be held Sunday night at the Presbyterian church from 5:30 to 6:30 o'clock. The union evening service will also be held at the Presbyterian church with Rev. Walter Wilson bringing the message. Rev. Johnston of the First Christian Association of Jacksonville, church will be in Cincinnati, Ohio, and 1200 people are expected to hear the concert.

Car Stolen Here Found Abandoned Near Louisiana

Jacksonville police "wrote off" one stolen car as recovered, and started looking for another car which was taken Friday from its parking place on Dunlap Court.

A 1940 Chevrolet coach owned by Mrs. M. V. Brewer, an instructor at the Illinois School for the Deaf, was found abandoned Friday 26 miles west of Louisiana, Mo. Deputy Sheriff Charles Dunn of Louisiana told the local police department that the car was towed to a garage in that city.

The Brewer car is believed to have been stolen by a young hitchhiker who was seen in the vicinity of the School for the Deaf a short time before it was missed.

Henry Gresham, 2141 South Main street, reported to police Friday evening that his 1931 Ford coupe was stolen from Dunlap Court. A description of the coupe was broadcast over the state police network, but it had not been accounted for Saturday.

School Of Nursing Official Leaves After Conference

Sister Amadeo, R.N., M.S., head of St. Mary's College School of Nursing, Notre Dame, Ind., left Jacksonville Friday after a three-day stay at Our Saviour's hospital for the discussion of policies of the Sisters of the Holy Cross for their schools of nursing.

Following conferences with the hospital and nursing school administrations and with the faculty, the visitor addressed the student body and the graduate nurse staff in separate sessions Thursday.

She outlined trends in nursing education and described the proposed Holy Cross Central School of Nursing which is to incorporate the four nursing schools of the Holy Cross Sisters in Illinois and Indiana and which is to utilize the facilities of St. Mary's College.

Notre Dame Machine Powers To 40-0 Win

By John Chandler
Baltimore, Md., Oct. 29.—(AP)—Ma-chine-like Notre Dame bopped Navy Saturday, 40 to 0, handing the Mid-dies the worst defeat in their foot-ball series that began in 1927. It was the 33rd game without defeat for the Irish who set a modern record.
Showing their gridiron wares to an eastern audience for the first time this season, the fighting Irish broke the game wide open with a 20-point assault in the second quar-ter. They coasted from there on.
Navy made a game of it for one quarter, and part of the second. Then, zing, zing, came the Notre touchdowns. The befuddled Middies never knew from which direction they were coming.

The chief Notre Dame slasher was Ernie Zaleski, a skittering left half-back from South Bend, Ind., home of the Big Green gang, that Coach Frank Leahy has welded into the nation's No. 1 football outfit.
Scores Three Touchdowns
Zaleski scored three of the six Notre Dame touchdowns as he be-came the main factor in the affair put on before a sellout crowd of 62,413 in Babe Ruth Stadium.
Ernie got Notre Dame out in front in 4:35 of the opening period. He grabbed a 22-yard toss from quar-terback Bobby Williams on Navy's 25. He was in the clear, and merely romped the rest of the way. The Irish probably would have scored sooner, but Navy won the toss and Notre Dame had to wait to get the ball. It took only five plays.
After fooling around the rest of the period and stopping two amazing Navy drives, Notre Dame dropped the roof on the boys from Annapolis in the second quarter.
Right half Larry Coutre started the business by taking the ball on a delayed buck on his nine yard line. A big hole opened in the Navy line, and away Larry went on a 91-yard touchdown pass.
Two More Scores
Two more Notre Dame touch-downs rolled across in the space of about eight minutes.
Emil Sitko was the 25 in the ointment next time. The lefty fullback speedster blasted 48 yards to Navy 15. Then he belted right through the middle like a shot from a gun for the final 16 after Coutre lost a yard.
As he started things, Zaleski finished it in the first half.
Baltimore's own boy, Williams, tossed three passes, the last two to Ernie. One traveled 18 yards to Navy's aerial defense was split wide open. The next was tossed from the 25. Zaleski nabbing it on the nine and moving north until he hit the end zone.
Zaleski also accounted for the final tally of the day, on a brilliant 76-yard spin late in the third period.

Father Feeney Dismissed From Jesuit Order

Cambridge, Mass., Oct. 29.—(AP)—The Rev. Leonard J. Feeney, S. J., noted Roman Catholic author, lec-turer and poet, was dismissed last night from the Jesuit order in the latest move against him in a six-month-old dispute.
Fr. Feeney announced the dis-missal himself. He said it was for alleged "disobedience."
He was deprived of his priestly functions on Jan. 1 by Archbishop Richard J. Cushing, head of the Boston diocese, for approval of teachings of three Boston col-lege professors that there is no sal-vation outside of the Catholic church. The alleged "disobedience" in-volved Fr. Feeney's refusal in Sep-tember, 1948, to accept transfer to Holy Cross college in Worcester, a Jesuit institution.
Fr. Feeney said he would continue as a Catholic priest, loyal and de-voted to the church and to the Pope.

MOST GRAINS ARE LITTLE HIGHER

Chicago, Oct. 29.—(AP)—Most grains worked a little higher on the board of trade today, but corn lagged behind the rest of the market. Receipts of the yellow grain were fairly large and were expected to expand sharply next week. Cash dealers reported purchases of 175,000 bushels of corn on a to-arrival basis.
Wheat and soybeans made frac-tional gains on news that restrictions on private exports of these commodities had been lifted. In soybeans, however, some selling pressure de-veloped mid-way in the sessions and prices slipped back. A mild recovery was staged toward the close. Deal-ings were light in all pias.
Wheat closed 1-1/2 higher, Decem-ber $2.14-1/2. Corn was unchanged to 1/16, December $1.16-1/2. Oats were 1/16 higher, December $1.42-1/2. Soy-beans were 1-1/2 higher, November $2.23-1/2 to $2.23, and December 10 to 20 cents a hundred pounds higher, $10.25.
Estimated receipts of grain in car-loads here today with the Monnon RR still missing were wheat 5 corn 29, oats 11 rye none barley 51 and soy-beans 79—receipts 26 include 26 cars of corn on-CCC-account.

CHICAGO LIVESTOCK MARKET REPORT

Chicago, Oct. 29.—(AP)—Hogs, cattle and sheep were quoted nominally steady at the stock yards today.
During the week hog prices slid lower, the closing lot of $17.75 being the lowest since 1946. Cows were removed Oct. 15, 1946. Losses ran-ge to about 50 cents in barrows and gilts. A feature of the market was the general high quality of offer-ings, maintaining a narrow spread between top and bottom prices.
In contrast, the price spread in the steer section was the widest on record as choice to prime cattle gained $1.00 to $2.00 while common and good offerings tumbled $1.00 to $4.00. A top of $41.50 was paid for prime heifers, a new 1949 high and only 10 cents under the all-time record made in September, 1948.
In the sheep section, prices moved upward during the early part of the week and then collapsed, for the week was $2.00, paid for choice native and western lambs. Final prices were about steady with a week earlier on lambs. Sheep gained 50 cents.

New York Stock Market

New York, Oct. 29.—(AP)—The stock market was mixed at a fairly active opening today. Changes were gener-ally small in both directions.
Radio Corp. opened lower at 121; International Paper was 1 ahead at 64; and Chrysler added minor frac-tions at 56. Others a little minor on fractions at Bethlehem Steel, Ameri-can Airlines, Texas Co. and Stand-ard Oil Co. (N.J.).
On the losing end in initial sales were Eastman Kodak, Packard, Sou-thern Pacific, Du Pont and Home-rite Mining. Montgomery Ward was unchanged.
After the opening burst of activ-ity had been taken care of, volume tapered off to a slow motion pace.

Noweaga, Ill., Oct. 29.—(AP)—Leads Gen. Moss, 15, died yester-day after being pinned beneath a tractor. He was the son of Mr. and Mrs. Wayne Moss.

DePauw In First Victory, Lashes Lake Forest 41-6

Greencastle, Ind., Oct. 29.—(AP)—DePauw's Tigers found the victory column for the first time this sea-son today with a 41-6 football tri-umph over Lake Forest of Illinois.
The Hoosiers banged over for four touchdowns on the ground and two in the air. The biggest splurge was a 21-point third quarter that finished what threat Lake Forest might have mustered.
Halfback Jim Gager of Lake For-est collected the visitors' only touch-down on a six-yard plunge in the third quarter. The score was set up by an 88-yard kickoff return by quarterback Paul Lee of Chicago led the DePauw attack, pitching both touchdowns passes and scoring once himself. His goalward passes were to end Hal Walker and end George Weikert, both in the third period.

Six Congressmen, Studying Aid Fund Leave For Madrid

Geneva, Oct. 29.—(AP)—Six mem-bers of the congressional committee on expenditures left Geneva by air today for Madrid after a thorough study of international organizations here.
The committee was particularly interested in organizations which re-ceive financial support from the United States government and chairman John A. Blatnik (D-Minn.) said he felt the committee's work here was "very fruitful."
Blatnik did not make the trip to Madrid, but is returning to Minn-ich and subsequently will visit Scandi-navia. Members of the committee go-ing to Madrid and later to Lisbon were Herbert C. Bonner (D-N.C.), Harold Donohue (D-Mass.), Anthony Tauriello (D-N.Y.), Ralph Har-vey (R-Ind.), Peter A. Mack, Jr. (D-Ill.) and Edward P. Garmatz (D-MD.).
The committee, which has the Hoover commission report on over-seas administration before it, has been inquiring into the expenditure of American funds abroad. Foreign and the military occupation zones were studied particularly.

Bits Of Football Keglers' Korner

Monmouth 14, Augustana 0
Monmouth, Ill., Oct. 29.—(AP)—Two passes from Hank Gildemeister to Bill Walton gave Monmouth a 14-0 football triumph over Augustana Saturday.
The first Gildemeister to Walton scoring flip was good for 30 yards and the second covered seven yards after the fighting Scots had driven from midfield.
Walton also kicked both extra points.
Principal 36, Eureka 7
Elsah, Ill., Oct. 29.—(AP)—About 600 homecoming fans watched Paul Kilburn lead Principia College to a 36-7 victory over Eureka College Saturday.
Kilburn scored twice in the Principia attack.
Vanderbilt 26, Auburn 7
Nashville, Tenn., Oct. 29.—(AP)—Little Lee Nalley sprinted 60 yards for a touchdown on a punt return and intercepted two Auburn passes to lead Vanderbilt to a 26-7 victory over Auburn in a homecoming foot-ball game Saturday.
A crowd of 25,000 was never in doubt about the outcome from the minute Vanderbilt scored its first tally in the opening minutes.
Illinois Wesleyan 39, Elmhurst 0
Elmhurst, Ill., Oct. 29.—(AP)—Illinois Wesleyan spoiled Elmhurst's homecoming day with a 39-0 romp over the host Blue Jays Saturday. Despite the lopsided score, the game was bitterly fought with two Wes-levan players tossed out of the game for roughness.
Ill. Normal 14, Butler 9
Normal, Ill., Oct. 29.—(AP)—Two second half touchdowns passed spoiled Butler University's homecoming football game Saturday as Illinois Normal squeezed to a 14-9 decision before 7,000 fans.
Fullback John Dal Santo, whose booming punts pulled the Illinois team out of numerous holes and stuck Butler into them, grabbed an 11-yard aerial from Milt Kadlec for the opening score.

Eastern Blanks Indiana State

Charleston, Ill., Oct. 29.—(AP)—Eastern Illinois State College blanked Indiana State 33 to 0 Saturday, scor-ing four touchdowns in the second quarter.
Bill Crum scored twice for Eastern, once on a two-yard dash and again on a 10-yard dash. Virgil Sweet, Larry Mizener and Ed Gie contributed the other tallies. Gie on a five-yard pass from Howard Boudreau. Eastern held a 26-0 lead at half-time.

Powerful Cadets Coast To Sixth Straight Win 40-14

West Point, N. Y., Oct. 29.—(AP)—The powerful Army Cadets coasted to their sixth straight victory of the season Saturday over a deter-mined but outmanned Virginia Mil-itary Institute team, 40 to 14.
After the brilliant Arnold Galiffa had propelled the Army regulars to a safe 27-0 margin at half time, Coach Earl Blaik sent in all the players he could locate, including his son Bob, with the result that the red jerseyed visitors made quite a match of it in the last two quar-ters.
Sub End Scoots
Toward the end of the third peri-od, Taylor Hay, a substitute VMI end, made the longest run of the game, a 77 yarder, after snatching an Army fumble out of the air. An intercepted pass and a fifty yard sprint by Halfback Fred Anson gave the Virginians their second score just before the contest ended.
Galiffa, who handles the ball on every play in Army's T-formation, had an important hand in scoring a 10-7 deficit in the early part of the game's first three touchdowns. He circled end for seven yards and the first score to cap a 68 yard drive midway of the opening peri-od. A 24-yard aerial from Galiffa to Halfback Jim Cain near the goal line was the payoff for the third.

Second-Stringer Scores
Jack Martin, scampering second string halfback, whizzed away for 63 yards and the Cadets fourth score of the one-sided affair.
Kuckhahn bulled across from the one at the end of a 26 yard push in the third quarter to run the com-ty 34-0, and after that the Army reserves took over in earnest. When the Cadets counted for the last time late in the contest, it was on a 44 yard run by one Bill Depew, who was such an extreme reserve that he wasn't even listed on the pro-gram.

Kansas Knocks Kansas State 38-0

Lawrence, Kas., Oct. 29.—(AP)—Un-iversity of Kansas, striving both by air and by land and making the most of fumbles, shutout Kansas State, 38-0, here Saturday for its first Big Seven conference foot-ball victory of the season.
Before 35,000 fans—the largest crowd ever to see the two teams here—the Jayhawks got away to an early lead and then uncorked the works in the second half against their rapidly tiring enemy.
Coach J. V. Sikes double-barreled fair-threat of Dick Gilman and Jerry Bogue worked smoothly.

Michigan State Wallops Temple

East Lansing, Mich., Oct. 29.—(AP)—Michigan State warmed up for a visit by Notre Dame next week by overwhelming an outclassed Temple team by a nine touchdown 62-14 score before 35,000 fans here Satur-day.
It was the fifth consecutive home-stand victory for the Spartans.
Michigan State Coach Biggie Munn sent his third and eighth stringers into action after MSC led 41-14 at the half. But even then boys outplayed the visiting Owls and aided in racking up three more touchdowns.
Temple led briefly in the first half by virtue of a touchdown set up by a Michigan State fumble. The Spar-tans quickly evened it up, however, and banged in five more tallies in the second quarter while Temple was managing one.

Mrs. Bill Veek Is Given Divorce

Tucson, Ariz., Oct. 29.—(AP)—Mrs. Eleanor Veek was today granted a divorce from William Veek, Jr., president of the Cleveland Indians. She was also granted custody of their three children, William, 12, Peter, seven, and Ellen, five.
Details of a property settlement were not disclosed.
The Veeks were married in Evanston, Ill., Dec. 5, 1935. Later they brought the "Lazy V" ranch near Tucson.
Mrs. Veek filed a complaint for divorce Feb. 5, 1949. She alleged desertion.
A property settlement was made yesterday. It was not included in the court record today.

Maj. Evans, Big Game Hunter, Dies

Davenport, Ia., Oct. 29.—(AP)—Maj. Harry P. Evans, 65, big game hunter and industrialist, died at his home here last night after an illness of several years.
Evans was formerly an executive of the French and Hecht wheel manufacturing concern of Davenport. He also had formerly served as president of the Davenport Wag-on company and vice president in charge of foreign trade for the Mo-line plow company.
His game-hunting expeditions in-cluded two trips to Alaska and two to Africa. He returned from each with numerous trophies.
Fruit computes may be varied endlessly. For instance, dried stoned figs may be mixed with a can of apricots for a delicious dessert.

Ohio State Bumps Off Wildcats, Title Bound

By Fritz Howell
Columbus, O., Oct. 29.—(AP)—Ohio State's once-beaten Bucks kept their Rose Bowl and Western Conference title hopes alive Saturday by beating Northwestern, 24 to 7.
The victory before 81,872 fans—fourth largest home crowd in Buck-eye history—put the Ohioans even with Iowa in the race for the Pasadena classic.
Ohio State and Iowa each have won three games and lost one in conference play.
The Bucks must get by Illinois and Michigan in late-season frays, but rated off today's performance they must be given a good chance.
Score In Every Period
Scoring in every period, the Bucks dominated play all the way. North-western failed to reach the middle of the field in the first half, and staged but one sustained drive all day. That was a 74-yard march in 17 plays with fullback Art Mura-kowski wheeling over from the three for the marker.
That brought the Wildcats up to a 10-7 deficit in the early part of the third period, but the Bucks went in for two more touchdowns to make it convincing.
Big Curly Morrison, Ohio's full-back, counted a pair of touchdowns on four and one-yard plunges. Half-back Jerry Krall got the other on a four-yard plunge in the closing min-utes, and Jimmy Hague contributed three extra points and an eight-yard field goal.
A 26-yard pass interference pen-alty, carrying to Northwestern's four, set up Morrison's first marker with less than a minute and a half to go in the first session.
Boots Field Goal
Northwestern was a new team as the third period opened. The Wild-cats went 74 yards to send Murakowski across for Northwestern's lone score.

Late in the period, a 15-yard roughing penalty and a 34-yard pass from Pendel Savic to Dick Schnitker reached the six. From there Krall made three and Morrison and the rest of the yardage in two tries.
A 37-yard pass from Krall to Hauge in the final period went to the Wildcat four, from where Krall wheeled over tackle for the final counter.

Gus, 275-Pound Porker, Welcome Guest In Parlor

Arlington, Ia., Oct. 29.—(AP)—A 275-pound pig, name of Gus, is a fre-quent and welcome guest in the par-lor of the Pete Bachtell farm home near here.
Gus developed a penchant for life indoors when the Bachtell family reared him behind the kitchen range.
Gus was abandoned at birth by his mother. The Bachtells gave him his start with warm milk fed from a baby bottle.
Although Gus now has permanent quarters in the barnyard, he fre-quently follows the Bachtells in-doors.
On these occasions Gus immedi-ately heads for the scatter rug in front of the radio and reclines con-tentedly.
Mrs. Bachtell says she doesn't protest too much. Gus is housebroken and his manners are above reproach. As pigs go, Gus is a handsome spotted Poland China. Puppy-like, he will nuzzle the Bachtells in friendly fashion. He grows jealous when attention is paid to Tony, the family dog.
The Bachtells say Gus has several accomplishments:
He knows his own name and will respond when called.
He knows the sound of the Bachtell jeep. When he hears it coming he romps happily to the spot where it customarily is parked and awaits its arrival.
He likes human companionship and recently trudged a mile through field and wood to keep Bachtell com-pany while he sawed wood.
There's a big question mark about Gus' future. He is now at a weight when most pigs are lively candidates for convention into bacon and pork roast.
The Bachtells dislike to think about such a possibility. They say Gus ought to be in a circus.

Soviet Reducing U.S. Press Corps Reporter Says

Paris, Oct. 29.—(AP)—Joseph Aev-man, Moscow correspondent for the New York Herald Tribune, charged today the Soviet government has embarked on a new policy of delib-erately cutting down or eliminating the American press corps in the Rus-sian capital.
In a statement endorsed by his newspaper, Newman said this was the intent of the new Soviet policy of issuing correspondent an exit visa without an automatic re-entry per-mit.
Newman left Moscow last June on an annual leave and to get married in Paris. He has been unable to obtain a re-entry visa although, he said, Soviet press chief Georgi Frantsev told him on June 7 there would be no difficulty in setting one.
Newman list the following as re-maining in Moscow:
Eddie Gilmore and Thomas Whit-ney of the Associated Press.
Henry Shapiro of the United Press.
Harrison Salisbury of the New York Times.
Andrew Steiner of McGraw Hill Publications and the British Agency Exchange Telegraph.
He added that the only two other representatives of the non-commu-nist western press at Moscow are De Dallas of Reuters and Serge Ginsburg of the French Press Agency.

Arkansas Rolls To 27-6 Conquest

Fayetteville, Ark., Oct. 29.—(AP)—Ground-minded Arkansas over-pow-ered the hapless Texas Aggies al-most exactly as expected, 27 to 26, Saturday. The Razorbacks were 19-point-favorites in the betting.
The victory was witnessed by some 20,000 Arkansas homecomers.
The young Aggies team fought stubbornly to hold Arkansas to a one-point, 7-6 lead in the first half but couldn't withstand the pound-ing longer.
Arkansas netted 293 yards rush-ing, most of it on short line jobs. Joe Duran accounted for 105 yards on two runs, the only long ones for Arkansas.
While the Aggies could manage only 55 yards running into Arkansas' big line, they kept the game in doubt until the fourth quarter with soph-more Dick Gardemal's sharp pass-ing. He connected on 14 of 25 tosses for 143 yards.
Pittsburgh, Oct. 29.—(AP)—Ralph Longmore, a six foot gazelle in foot-ball cleats ran up and down the field as though he owned it today to pace Duquesne university to a 51-14 rout of St. Louis University.
The 197-pound right halfback ran for a touchdown each of the first two times he got his hands on the ball. He scored three times in the first period on runs of 57, 33, and 67 yards respectively. All were around left end.

Wheat Raps No. Central 13 To 0

Wheaton, Ill., Oct. 29.—(AP)—Wheaton College defeated North Central 13-0 Saturday for its sixth straight football victory and its fourth College Conference of Illi-nois win without a loss.
Fullback Chuck Schenbert scored the first touchdown on a 32-yard run in the first quarter. Dale Oxley kicked the extra point.
In the final period halfback George Dryden tossed a 19-yard touchdown pass to end Bob Gers-tung. The extra point try was missed.
Wheaton stopped North Central within the 15 yard line four times during the game.

RED WINGS BLANK CANADIANS

Montreal, Oct. 29.—(AP)—The De-troit Red Wings tonight gained undisputed possession of first place in the National Hockey League by blanking the Montreal Canadiens, 1-0. Steve Black's goal at 16:30 of the first period gave the motor city crew its margin of victory.

Bob Zuppke, 71,000 Fans See Illini Drop To Fourth Position

By Bob Merris

Football in miniature was presented to ISD homecoming fans between halves of the Illinois-Indiana bout Saturday afternoon. Two teams of Tiger "cubs" battled to a scoreless deadlock during the ten-minute intermission. The 9-11 year old gridlers copied the larger teams to perfection, blocking, kicking, tackl-

Champaign, Ill., Oct. 29.—(AP)—The inspirational fury boiling within Illinois on "Bog Zuppke Day" suddenly escaped into nothingness with a fumble two yards shy of a touchdown and Michigan took the cue to blast the Illini out of the Big Ten football lead 13-0 Saturday.

More than 71,000 fans, including 70-year-old Zuppke and 28 of his former Illini team captains, groaned in bitter disappointment when a fumble ended Illinois' only real scoring chance just a pace from the yard the Illinois 20, reaching the 19-12 and 10. But fumbles, although recaptured by Michigan, lost costly yardage which dulled the thrills.

Most of the Illini's ground yardage was chewed up on end slices. When they went for Michigan middle—which appeared to be too often—they made faint headway as center Tony Momsen and Dick Kempthorn plugged in from the secondary.

Tom and Don Peterson rolled up all but 39 yards of Michigan's 118 total by rushing. Ortmann, hitting supported, such as ISD. The big-league program would take too long to pay-off for win-hungry fans, and a coach that is here today and gone tomorrow could hardly be expected to develop the project when it may result in getting his socks beaten off when he's moved to another school and returns to play a ball game.

—O—

Messrs. Wilson and Yates, since they are subject to little or no outside pressure, can take their own sweet time building for the future. Both good coaches, they are never confronted with eager alumni who demand "we want a winning team." Yet, they generally turn out a winner and always field a team well-schooled in the principles of good sportsmanship.

When Pleasant Hill dumped Winchester 39-14 in an Illinois Valley conference football fracas, it marked the first win for the over Michigan at the dedication of Memorial Stadium 25 years ago, had to talk about.

Michigan captured a 7-0 lead in the second period on a 51-yard pass play from Chuck Ortman to end Harry Allis. Allis snared the pith with one hand on the 20 and raced across.

The Wolverines' brother act of Don and Tom Peterson took charge of the second touchdown siege in back from a 20-0 deficit to a 28-27 lead at the end of the third period. The Trojans of U. S. C. boiled on two last-quarter touchdowns while the Washington machine was running out of gas.

Jim Powers was a battle of the pitching Jim Powers and the edge went to touchdowns of Troy. He flipped three yards and losses, one good for 80 yards and a toss. He flipped for 80 yards and a toss. He flipped for 80 yards and a toss.

Don Heinrich third U. S. C. counter. Two six-pointers Washington hurled pin; Roland Kirkish to high step; 55 strides. and the long t.

Hinnippen's since 1930. Though the PH eleven isn't exactly running wild in this season, the dopester still thinks that they'll grab another victory that against White Hall—before the season ends. White Hall and Winchester tied 7-7 earlier this year.

Ithaca, N. Y., Oct. 29. —(AP)—Unbeaten Cornell ran amok in a 34-point fourth quarter Saturday, routing outclassed Columbia, 54-0, in a game marred by frequent penalties against the enraged Lions.

not be stopped and Duke won Saturday, 27-14.

A near sellout crowd of 38,000 saw Tech completely outplay Duke in the first half and take a 7-0 lead. But Duke came back with all it; 27 points for a convincing victory.

Tech won the battle of statistics in nearly every phase, but with Jack Moulie's goal line punching and Cox's mid-field passing, Duke had the punch when it was needed most.

After intermission Duke roared for 71 yards. Cox passed perfectly five consecutive times, the last one to Jack Friedlund for a touchdown. Mike Soachack kicked his first of three placekicks.

Jeff Fleischmann jarred the grooved Columbia line for three tough owns in Cornell's sixth straight victory. Even the club's placekicker took a hand in the eight touchdown parade before 25,000 fans.

Billy Kirk, the placekicker, joined the longest run this sun baked ernern afternoon, going 34 yards in the furious final splurge. Hal Linderberg, Bernie Babula, Bob Bailey and Harvey Sampson also added touchdowns.

It was a slashing offensive duel filled with sensational long runs the likes of which had never been seen by any other crowd in the 20-year-old Iowa stadium.

With exactly 15 minutes and 15 seconds left to play, Iowa appeared hopelessly behind, 24-6, under the pounding of an Oregon team that had dominated the slushy Hawks.

Then came the Iowa deluge which

Southern tallied in the third quarter on a one-yard plunge by John Egan. Its only other threat faded

JENNY was waiting at the front gate of the Steubertwald store at four o'clock and she saw Tod the moment he came out of the building. He walked with his big shoulders hunched, an absent-minded expression on his face. She punched the horn of the car and he looked up.

"I wanted to talk to you, Tod." A wary expression crept over his face, like a mask pulled down. "Who told you I was working here?"

"Rick." A sudden thought seemed to strike him. "Nothing's wrong with the kids?"

"No. Nothing like that." He stood awkward and uncertain, people streaming past him, some of them looking curious. "Won't you get in, Tod?"

He went around and opened the car door and got in beside her. Tod was silent as he turned the car up the hill away from town and toward the river. But after a while he spoke, gruffly. "Exactly what do you want to talk to me about?"

An uneasy qualm struck Jenny. "Well, now that you're here," she parried, "it's not going to be as easy as I thought. I—I heard you'd left the Conover Agency."

"I left there the first of the year," he said bluntly. "Rick told me you and Liz—" "Yeah, we're all washed up. That happened months ago, too."

Jenny ran her index finger back and forth on the steering wheel. Tod's brusque manner chilled her. "Rick said you were having a tough time financially, and then this trouble, your mother dying and all—"

"Just because I asked your help with Ma, because I was in a jam, is no sign I need your pity. You don't have to go out of your way to do anything for me!"

"I'm not offering you anything," Tod said. "Look, just why did you come by tonight and pick me up? What did you want to talk to me about?"

Jenny threw him a tremulous half-frightened look and her eyes swam with quick tears. "I may as well come to the point, Tod. I want you to—to come home."

"YOU WHAT?" "I love you, Tod. I've never stopped loving you. I need you so!"

"You need me?" The words had an incredulous ring. His handsome face twisted. "But you're going to marry Rick. Nina told me so. Rick said so himself. And I was glad when I heard about it. He's just the sort of a person you ought to be married to, steady, and reliable and good. I've known Rick for a long time, baby, and I know one thing—he'll never let you down."

Jenny tried to speak, but he went on roughly. "You and I didn't make a go of it once, and we wouldn't again, because we're—we're not cut out for each other. And besides," he added lamely, "Rick will take care of you." He stopped and looked away from her, rubbing his fist in the palm of his hand.

"Tod," she whispered, "look at me. I love you. Even if you aren't in love with me, I'd like you to come back and try again. I want you back—on any terms—your terms."

He couldn't resist any longer. He found himself with his cheek against hers, all at once, feeling the wet warmth of her tears. He heard his own voice, babbling almost without volition. "Jenny darling, my darling, I am in love with you, more than I'll ever be able to let you know."

"Tod." He drew back. "How could you come to me like this, when I've been such a fool! It took me so long to grow up! To know that I'd been chasing a rainbow that didn't even exist, following an obsession that was just that and nothing else. You can't imagine" what it was like, to discover that when Liz was planning our wedding, all I could think of was that honeymoon of ours in that miserable little tourist cabin. I knew then that I loved you. How could you ever take me back after all that's happened?"

"Hush." She lifted her lips and the world spun for an instant as he kissed her.

"And I ruined everything—" "Everything isn't ruined," Jenny said. "And we're not alone in making mistakes, you and I. Everybody makes 'em."

"Do you honestly think we could start all over again, Jenny?"

"She nodded, and he took her hands in his and went on earnestly. "Ma said to me once not long ago that having somebody you love, love you in return is the most important thing there is. And I believe it. Ma felt sorry for me."

"But we have each other again, Tod."

"You wouldn't be able to forget some of the things that have happened," he said doubtfully.

"No. I won't forget. Nor will you. But who cares about that. We need to remember our mistakes, to profit by them."

"If I could just be sure that I wouldn't fail you ever again, that we could have things right for the children—"

"We have each other," Jenny answered, her arms going around his neck once more. "That counts for more than anything. Pop said to me once that you have to fight for what you want in this life, and after you get it you have to fight twice as hard to keep it. I'll never let you go again, Tod."

"I won't go again, darling," Tod said. "The last thing Ma said to me before she died was 'Make it up with Jenny.' She'd be pleased now if she could just know."

Jenny started at the car. Her heart was singing as her thoughts leaped ahead to that moment when she and Tod should step across the threshold of the house on Riverside Road once more. The twins, dressed in their best bibs and tuckers, were waiting there.

What a homecoming this was going to be!

Former Jerseyville Resident Married In Las Vegas, Nev.

Jerseyville—Mr. and Mrs. James O. Watt of this city have announced the marriage of their daughter, Mrs. Dorothy Lee Watts Stone, to Cecil Osborne, son of Mr. and Mrs. Martin Jay Osborne of Ontario, Calif., which took place Sept. 3 in Las Vegas, Nevada. Rev. Robert Edwards performed the ceremony at the Wee Kirk of the Heather Wedding chapel in Las Vegas.

For her wedding, the bride wore a grey dress with brown accessories. Her jewelry included rhinestone earrings, a present from the groom. During the services "Forever and Ever" and "Because" were played. Mr. and Mrs. Osborne are making their home at 1158 East Grand Ave., Pomona, Calif.

As Jerseyville relatives could not be present for the wedding a recording of the marriage ceremony was sent to the bride's parents, Mr. and Mrs. James O. Watts, and their son and daughter-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Cliff Watts.

GRACE CHURCH

ANNOUNCES REOPENING OF ITS MIDWEEK BIBLE SCHOOL FOR CHILDREN FROM 4 TO 14. OF ALL CREEDS AND COLOR. NEXT WEDNESDAY AND EVERY WEDNESDAY THEREAFTER, FROM 4:15 TO 5:00.

Dr. E. D. Canatsey Funeral Services Held Saturday

Hundreds of friends and relatives crowded Grace Methodist church Saturday afternoon to attend last rites for Dr. E. D. Canatsey. Dr. Frank Marston, pastor of the church, delivered the funeral oration.

Mrs. Eloise Plouer sang two solos. Mrs. G. O. Webster was at the organ. Nurses of Passavant and Our Saviour's hospitals attended in a body, as did the members of the Morgan County Medical society and the Order of Eastern Star. Uniformed nurses from Our Saviour's and the physicians of this area served as an honorary escort at the church.

The many floral tributes to the memory of Dr. Canatsey were cared for by six nieces: Mrs. Gertrude Parker, Mrs. Charles Craddock, Mrs. Virginia Montgomery, Mrs. Lillie Mae O'Donnell, Mrs. Virgil Coughlin and Mrs. Thurmon Coughlin.

Eight nephews were the casket-bearers. They were Wendell Wessler, T. R. Coughlin, Hal Montgomery, Wessler, Frank O'Donnell, Fred Coughlin, Charles Craddock and Virgil Coughlin.

Burial was in Memorial Lawn cemetery.

European Singer To Open Artist Series Tuesday

Tuesday evening, Nov. 1, Jacksonville high school auditorium will be the scene of the opening of the MacMurray College Artist series for the 1949-1950 season.

Ernst Wolfe, tenor, will present a program of German lieder, and French, English and Italian songs. For most people the German lieder begins with Schubert and we are to hear four of his charming songs. The setting for two of these are poems by Goethe whose bi-centenary is being celebrated this year.

Mr. Wolfe's recitals are unique in that he appears in the dual role of singer and accompanist, in both of which shows unusual ability.

His program will include a group of German folk songs, another group of lieder and will close with a group of songs in English, French and Italian. He was trained in Europe in lieder and operatic singing and was for some time conductor at the Frankfurt Opera House. Mr. Wolfe was one of the pioneers engaged to inaugurate the plan of sending artists to college campus for a two-day visit and has visited well over a hundred colleges.

He will be at MacMurray College Wednesday and will give an informal recital there Wednesday afternoon.

Glasgow PTA Has October Meet Thursday Night

Glasgow — The Glasgow P.T.A. conducted its October program Thursday evening in the schoolhouse. The Halloween season was observed by a number of the children, who were attired in assorted Halloween costumes. These costumes were judged and prizes were awarded.

The program consisted of the following numbers: Song, "Halloween"; Primary pupils; song, "America"; audience; business meeting and discussion of projects for the year; song, "My Little Broom"; Primary pupils; quizzette; by Mrs. Albert Hester; accordion music; Miss Janet Hester; home movies by Estelle Cowper.

Not Many Hospital Births In '96, But Plenty Today

Oct. 31, 1896 was the birthday of Master Thomas G. Hayden, the first baby born at Our Saviour's. The hospital had been open only nine days, having received its first patients on Oct. 22.

Young Thomas was the son of the Rev. and Mrs. F. S. Hayden, 202 Kosciuszko street. The attending physician was Dr. McLaughlin. Rev. Hayden was pastor of the Congregational church at the time, and he was to become a distinguished member of the faculty of Illinois College until his death in 1923.

The birth of Master Hayden was unique on several counts. This October baby was not only the first to be born at Our Saviour's, but he was the hospital's only baby for several years.

Already this October two sets of twins have been born at Our Saviour's, which brings the number of twin births this year up to seven, as compared to six in 1948.

University To Publish Book By Local Couple

Dr. Hill Shine, professor of English at MacMurray College, and his wife, Helen Chadwick Shine, are the co-authors of The Quarterly Review Under Gifford, to be published Nov. 26 by the University of North Carolina Press.

The book was originally intended to be a history of The Quarterly Review, but after beginning research on the problem, the Shines discovered that there was no authoritative record of the authorship of the articles, since all of them were published anonymously.

In this new book the authors have verified or newly identified the authors of 616 of the 733 articles published in The Quarterly Review under the editorship of William Gifford.

Junior Red Cross Membership Drive To Open Tuesday

Miss Marguerite J. Schoedsack, chairman of the Junior Red Cross committee for the Morgan county chapter, announces the campaign for the enrollment of members from Nov. 1-15. This is an annual campaign, which is conducted throughout the parochial, public and many private schools all over the United States.

The Junior Red Cross committee, composed of Miss Schoedsack, Mrs. John T. Taylor, Mrs. Earl Hem-brown, Mrs. Charles B. Wood, and Mrs. Theima Daly, said a goal of 100% enrollment has been set for the two week period.

The program as planned for this year is to give special emphasis on the arts and crafts departments, where thousands of favors and decorations are made by students to be sent to the veterans and military hospitals to celebrate the various holidays throughout the year.

Another program to be carried out is the exchange of correspondence albums with schools in many foreign countries.

A number of the schools have requested gift boxes which will be filled with school and health supplies and sent to schools in devastated overseas countries.

SUNDAY SCHOOL HAS FALL PARTY

Garment Workers Hold Educational Insitute At Illinois College

Sessions on the industrial scene, the international scene and the psychology of everyday life were the features of the educational institute at Illinois College Saturday, Oct. 29. It was sponsored by the International Ladies' Garment Workers' Union and continued a full day.

Dr. H. Gary Hudson, college president, welcomed the group on behalf of the college.

Ernest L. Hoagland, mayor of Jacksonville, addressed the students at a campus luncheon. Lecturers were Dr. John S. Wright on world citizenship, Professor Lawrence Paset on the industrial scene and Dr. Eleanor Olmstead Miller on psychology. All are members of the college faculty, and Dr. Wright also has been faculty adviser to the institute.

Importance Of Understanding. Mrs. Miller stressed the importance of understanding oneself, then other people, and finally of building a bridge of communication to others.

Professor Paset talked on the problems of social welfare and gave a brief history of the background and tradition of the union, which celebrates its 50th anniversary next year.

Dr. Wright spoke as follows: "There are no pat answers to problems of international relations. Even problems themselves are in continual process of change. We cannot live to ourselves as a nation. International cooperation and a federation of nations will bring about world peace. This must be demonstrated in nature and have some means of enforcing peace."

"We Must Participate." "As citizens of this country, we have more to do with leading to ward chaos or peace than any other people in the world. That's why we must participate in all activities of this nature."

Mrs. Doris Preisler, chairman, opened the sessions in the chapel of Jones Memorial Hall with greetings from Meyer Perlisten, vice president of the union and director of its southwestern region. The program also included group singing by the students during the opening period and a tour of the campus conducted by students of the Alpha Pi Omega service fraternity early in the afternoon.

Attending the institute were members of Local 309 of Assumption, Local 187 of Nokomis, Local 193 of Pana, Local 409 of Quincy, Local 194 of Roodhouse, Local 253 of Shelbyville, Local 443 of Viriden, Local 369 of White Hall and Local 275 of Winchester.

This was the first in a series to be held by the southwestern region of the union this year. During the 1948-49 academic year nine such institutes were held in Carbondale, Ill., Kansas City, Mo., Okmulgee, Okla., Little Rock, Ark., San Antonio, Texas, St. Louis, Mo., Houston, Texas and Dallas, Texas.

The Bates church and Sunday school held a masquerade party at the High school Friday evening.

Mr. and Mrs. E. C. Couter Spent Saturday in Decatur celebrating their 30th wedding anniversary.

Mr. and Mrs. Lynn Miller drove to Stenington Monday. The pastor's associational meeting convened there.

The Bates—New Berlin Missionary meeting was held Thursday at the home of Mrs. George Berschneider. Mrs. Raymond King was hostess, and the program was given by Mrs. Godeleb De Muth of Springfield.

Mrs. Charles Fulton and Mrs. Henry Hughes attended the homecoming at Western State College in Macomb this weekend.

The Glasgow Baptist Mission Society At Young Home. Glasgow—The Glasgow Baptist Mission Circle conducted its October meeting Friday evening at the home of Mrs. Gerlie Young, with Mrs. Hettie Cowper as assistant hostess. Fourteen members and seven guests attended.

Devotional from Acts 11:12-18 was conducted by Mrs. Gerlie Young. After the business meeting, roll call was answered with a Bible verse, followed by prayer by Mrs. Hettie Cowper.

Two special hymns were played by Miss Janet Hester and Carol Savage on the accordion and piano, respectively. A vocal solo was rendered by Miss Reta Savage.

An interesting and instructive talk on "Message on Japan" was given by Rev. John Scott of Winchester, after which a special piano solo was played by Carol Savage. The Missionary hymn was offered by Mrs. Gerlie Young.

During the following social hour refreshments were served by the hostess and her assistant, with the table service having a Halloween motif.

Rev. Gregg to Speak. Rev. L. Gregg, pastor of the Baptist church in Carrollton, will be the speaker at a service to be held Tuesday night, Nov. 1, in the Glasgow Baptist church.

Rev. Gregg will give a presentation of the program of the denomination for this year, which is Stewardship.

Winchester Rites For C. N. Mader

Winchester — Funeral services were held Saturday afternoon at the Danner Funeral Home for Charles N. Mader of Mt. Vernon. The services were officiated by the Rev. Ralph Jasper of the Winchester Methodist church.

Two musical selections, "Lead Kindly Light" and "No Night There" were rendered by Mrs. Edie Haggard and Eric Little. They were accompanied by Gary Stuart at the organ.

The casketbearers were Sherman Atlee, William Atlee, Harold Switzer, Roy Battfield, William Balsley, and Ernest Howell.

Among the people from out of town who attended the services were Mrs. Mader of Mt. Vernon, Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth Mader and son of Cincinnati, Ohio, Mr. and Mrs. Wilham Balsley of Calensburg, and other friends and relatives from Alton, Pittsfield, Grigsville and Jacksonville.
